Navy Recovers Bomb From Sea

MADRID (AP) — An American H-bomb missing since the crash of a U.S. nuclear bomber Jan. 17, has been recovered from the Mediterranean off Spain's southeast coast, it was officially announced today.

The bomb, which was lost when a B52 bomber and a tanker plane collided over Palomares Beach, was recovered by a U.S. naval task force which had been searching the sea depths for more than two months.

The bomb was located in 2,500 feet of water about five miles offshore on March 15 by the midget sub Alvin. It was found almost exactly where Francisco Sino, a Spanish fisherman, told the searchers he saw a strange object fall into the Mediterranean after the crash.

U.S. Embassy officials said the bomb was intact and not damaged.

The bomb, described as a 20-megaton hydrogen bomb, was one of four lost from the B52 in the collision and crash in which seven airmen were killed. Eight other American airmen were killed in the crash of a C124 transport which was on a support mission for the search and recovery groups off Palomares Beach.

The other three bombs fell on shore and were quickly recovered. But two of them were damaged and left a residue of radioactivity which was cleaned up by removing nearly 5,000 steel drums of earth and vegetation.

While the naval task force commanded by Rear Adm. William S. Guest of Rome, Ga., searched off the coast, more than 800 U.S. Air Force personnel recovered wreckage from the crash on shore and removed the traces of radioactivity. At the end of the search today, only a handful of Air Force personnel were in the shore detachment.

Loss of the H-bomb was a painful embarrassment to the U.S. government despite its emphatic insistence that the bombs aboard the B52 were not armed and could not explode. Spain barred flights of nuclear-armed U.S. planes over Spanish soil, and the Soviets accused the United States of radioactive contamination of the Mediterranean. The United States denied the charge.

In Case At Wellsville

Driver Injured In Plunge As Cruiser Pursues Auto

A Wellsville man was hospitalized when he wrecked his car during a high-speed flight from a police cruiser about midnight Wednesday in Wellsville.

Roger John Gearin of 1198 Springhill Rd. was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered when he lost control of his car and ended up in a small creek along 14th St., Wellsville, police said.

Officer Charles Amato observed Gearin and another car driven by Robert Russell of 404 Jefferson St., Salineville, traveling almost bumper to bumper at a high rate of speed at 11th and Main Sts.

He gave chase and when he turned on the red flasher light both drivers attempted to allude him, he said.

As Gearin was driving north on 15th St., toward Buckeye

Ave., he lost control of his 1960 sedan and sheared off a fire hydrant.

The car then covered about 30 feet and plunged down into the creek, ripping out about 27 feet of retaining wall.

Gearin was pinned against his steering wheel and had to be pried loose. When Russell observed the accident, he also stopped.

Both drivers were charged with reckless operation. Russell will receive a hearing April 16 before Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville.

Gearin suffered possible back and shoulder injuries, a possible concussion and shock.

New Crisis Erupted As Tide Turned

U.S. Officer Says 'We're In.' If War Goes Like It Has

By JOHN T. WHEELER
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Nam's latest government crisis erupted just as senior American military officials felt the tide of battle had begun to turn in their favor.

"If things continue to go as they have in the field, we're in," one U.S. officer said, summing up the feeling of the American command.

The Allied troops have taken the initiative from the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops. Massive American firepower, constant bombing and relentless pressure on Communist strongholds have produced impressive results.

Some senior sources concede the picture isn't quite as bright as the daily announcements make it appear.

Two of the most quoted statistics are enemy bodies counted and the number of Viet Cong defectors. One senior official said he automatically cuts body count figures in half. Another says the current rate of more than 2,000 defectors a month includes a large number of refugees and a high percentage of persons in the fringe of the Communist movement. The number of hardcore fighting troops crossing over to the government side is considered small.

During past political upheavals, U.S. sources figured that the war was set back six months or more following the collapse of a regime. If Premier Nguyen Cao Ky should fall, the situation will not be quite so serious this time unless anti-American sentiment being fanned by the Buddhists gets out of hand.

During all past crises, the Vietnamese generals and province chiefs virtually ignored the war as they jockeyed for political position. Lesser officials sat on their hands awaiting the outcome.

Now American troops are bearing the brunt of the war, and U.S. operations presumably would continue at their present or possibly at a higher pace.

The crisis has hurt the Vietnamese military effort already. If it worsens, the Vietnamese effort will slide proportionately.

But if the political situation is the blackest cloud over Viet Nam at the moment, things are brightest on the battlefield.

Not since the bloody battle of the Ia Drang Valley last November have Viet Cong or North Vietnamese regiments taken on U.S. forces for a toe to toe battle of any duration.

Police, FBI Drop Role In Kidnap Case

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The parents of a teen-ager kidnapped from his home 10 days ago say police and the FBI have agreed to step out of the picture if the kidnaper will return their son safely.

"We would indeed be foolish not to work with the real kidnaper in our own interest," said Aaron Goldman, a wealthy 47-year-old contractor.

Goldman's 18-year-old son was forced to leave his home before dawn on March 28th by a husky middle-aged man who demanded $25,000 ransom. Since then, Goldman says he has heard nothing from the man although imposters have tried to get the money. Two of them have been arrested.

Stranger Than Fiction Story

Man Killed In Viet Serving Under Acquaintance's Name

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP) — A stranger than fiction story emerged today about a man who was killed in Viet Nam while serving in the Marine Corps under the name of an acquaintance.

The dead Marine has been identified as William F. Joyce, 25, of Stoughton, Mass., who was killed in action at Quan Lai while serving with the 1st Battalion of the 7th Marines.

But Joyce apparently was known to his comrades in Company C, not as Joyce, but as "Richard J. Preskenis," the name under which he enlisted three years ago.

There is a Richard J. Pres-kenis, who went to high school in Stoughton, but who now lives in an adjoining town, Canton. Preskenis, 22, knew Joyce several years ago, but the men were not close.

Preskenis' name turned up on a casualty list issued Wednesday by the Defense Department. The list gave an address in Livermore Falls, Maine.

When the official notifications went out a few days ago, nobody in Livermore Falls knew any Preskenis. So the notice was forwarded to Brockton, where the dead Marine had listed as his secondary next of kin a sister, Mrs. Paul Collins.

The Marine Corps in Washington says it was she who told them that the true name of the dead Marine was Joyce.

Joyce apparently used the name of Preskenis to enlist in the Marine Corps in April, 1963, because he had some trouble with the police, which might have made him unacceptable.

Preskenis was not available for comment, but his wife said, "for a long time we had been wondering why Richard wasn't drafted. His twin brother, Robert, had gone into the Air Force in 1961 and got out just last August."

Mrs. Preskenis explained that her husband had gone to his draft board and asked why he hadn't been called and that "the lady there told him he had enlisted April 1963 and so, of course, wasn't drafted."

Preskenis convinced the board that he was "the real Richard J. Preskenis" and he now has been reclassified.

Preskenis and his wife learned of the use of his name when Joyce's sister, Mrs. Collins, told Preskenis' father about the deception.

How did Joyce know so much about Preskenis?

"Richard's other brother, John, went to school with Billy. They were pretty close for seven years," Mrs. Preskenis said.

Easter Rest Being Taken By Congress

Ok's India Food Program, Extends Medicare Signup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress starts its Easter recess today after approving the food-for-India program and a two-month extension in signups for doctors' bills insurance under Medicare.

In a big pre-holiday push Wednesday, the House also passed a 2.9-per cent pay raise for 1.8 million federal workers and two major money bills totaling $8.3 billion to finance activities of the Treasury, Post Office and Interior Departments in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The Senate was busy approving President Johnson's proposal to transfer the Community Relations Service, which mediates civil rights disputes, from the Commerce to the Justice Department.

After recessing today the House will be off until April 18.

The Senate plans to come back April 13 for debate — but no immediate action — on Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen's proposed constitutional amendment to modify the Supreme Court ruling that both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned according to population.

Many congressmen will take advantage of the recess to return home to feel the public pulse on such matters as Viet Nam, government spending and inflation, and to get in a bit of campaigning for November's congressional elections.

But six senators and seven representatives plus staff members and wives plan to spend the holiday in Australia — with stops also in Honolulu, New Zealand and perhaps Tahiti.

They left Wednesday on an expense-paid junket as U.S. delegates to the spring meeting of the Interparliamentary Union in Canberra, Australia. The stops are being made because their Air Force jets lack sleeping facilities, they said.

Apparently buried in the flurry of legislative activity Wednesday was what House Speaker John W. McCormack termed a misunderstanding involving the House Democratic leadership and 22 Western Democratic House members — most of them firm administration backers.

They charged that the Democratic whip organization, which checks members' views and attempts to line up votes for administration bills, had leaked information to some lobbyists and White House aides — who then tried to exert pressure on some of them.

On Way To Golf Tourney

4 Ohioans Killed In Plane Crash

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn. (AP) — Two prominent couples from Columbus, Ohio, en route to cheer for golfer Jack Nicklaus in the Masters Tournament, died in the fiery crash of a twin-engine plane near here Wednesday night.

The plane was piloted by Robert K. Barton, 33, amateur golfer and law partner of former U.S. Sen. and Ohio Gov. John W. Bricker.

The other victims were Barton's 32-year-old wife and Mr. and Mrs. James Kettler Long, both 38.

In Columbus, both couples were identified as close friends of Nicklaus, who begins defense of his championship in the Masters Golf Tournament at Augusta, Ga., today.

Investigators from the Federal Aviation Agency in Nashville began an investigation of the crash immediately.

Witnesses said the plane, flying on one engine, came over the area at low altitude and took a nose dive when it appeared to lose power on its second engine.

The aircraft hit a parked car, burst into flames and cartwheeled into a plowed field approximately 60 yards from a farm home. Eight persons were inside the house.

"The plane came down in a swirl and splattered gas and flames everywhere," said Mike Tester, 11, son of James Tester on whose farm the crash occurred.

Highway Patrolman Frank Richardson said the plane's pilot had notified the Tri-City Airport control tower at nearby Barton that one of its engines was icing up. The report came about two minutes before the crash, about 100 miles east of Knoxville.

The control tower suggested that the pilot attempt an emergency landing at another small air strip about four miles from the crash site.

Workers at the Little Johnson City Airport began setting up makeshift lighting but seconds later received word that the craft was down.

"All four people were still in the cockpit of the plane," reported Carter County Sheriff Sam Frost. "I don't believe any of them lived an instant after the plane hit the ground."

The FAA, the Tennessee Highway Patrol and funeral homes here and in Columbus pieced together identifications from markings on the seared aircraft and the flight plan filed by Barton before the plane left Ohio State University Airport near Columbus Wednesday.

The victims were sports enthusiasts, and Barton recently had been on a hunting trip with Nicklaus. Long was an executive with the David Davies Packing Co. of Columbus.

Barton was the grandson of the late Common Pleas Court Judge John R. King of Columbus. Mrs. Long, the daughter of a prominent Columbus physician, was the sister of Dr. Robert Murphy, the team physician for the Ohio State University football team.

Public Meeting Held

South Side Gets Clean Bill In Hepatitis Investigation

South Side High School was given a clean bill of health as a possible source of two cases of infectious hepatitis and personal hygiene was stressed by officials of the Pennsylvania Health Department at a public meeting Wednesday night at the school.

Approximately 120 attended the meeting, which was requested and moderated by State Sen. Ernest P. Kline to allow officials to discuss the nature of the disease.

"You're not suffering from an epidemic of infectious hepatitis in Beaver County," Dr. Lewis D. Williams, medical director of Region 3, told the group.

"The field investigation of each reported case as well as cases our public health nurse has discovered showed the cases have been widespread in time and geographic location, and with no intimate contact in a social way," Dr. Williams declared.

Dr. William D. Schrack, director of the department's Division of Communicable Disease Control in Harrisburg, explained the use of gamma globulin as a temporary immunizing agent.

"When two cases of infectious hepatitis are found in the same school bus or classroom, within 29 days the entire class and bus passengers are given gamma globulin," Dr. Schrack said.

The case reported last Thursday for the first time involved a second case in one bus and one classroom, he said. Gamma globulin was given all children as well as the teacher and bus driver on Tuesday, he continued.

White OK'd In GOP Bid For Governor

Rhodes To Be Foe; Saxbe Overruled By Supreme Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Republican statewide offices ticket on the May primary ballot will have a contest after all—and right at the top.

William L. White, 70, of Mount Vernon, who had promised some surprises, came up with one Wednesday with the aid of the Ohio Supreme Court.

The court overruled Secretary of State Ted W. Brown—one of those opposed for renomination—and found that White's nominating petitions for governor had enough valid signatures for him to make the race.

Brown had ruled White failed to meet the minimum of 1,000 valid signatures because of 229 who signed their names but left affixing of the date to somebody else.

The court, in a 5-2 decision with an opinion by Chief Justice Kingsley A. Taft, said the 229 were legitimate petitioners—giving White exactly 1,000 plus 4 for good measure.

Taft and the rest of the court majority in the case are listed as Republicans. Dissenting judges Charles B. Zimmerman of Springfield and Paul W. Brown of Youngstown are a Democrat and a Republican, respectively.

After Wednesday's verdict, White, who deals in rabbits and hobbyist activities, commented: "You know that right usually wins out, and I knew that I was right."

He charged again that the Ohio GOP hierarchy had tried its best to discourage any primary contests—that they wanted "a choice of one, just like in Communist Russia."

The septuagenarian, with less than four weeks to campaign for the May 3 primary, planned to launch his drive with a Statehouse Rotunda news conference at 12:30 p.m. today.

Judge Tobin Warns Juvenile Shoplifters

A crackdown on shoplifting by juveniles has been launched by Judge Louis Tobin of Juvenile Court at Lisbon.

Pointing out that much of the shoplifting apparently is being done for "kicks" as sort of a "Badge of Distinction," the judge declared:

"It will be the policy of this court until further notice that any child caught shoplifting will be given some time in detention if 14 years of age or older. Those under 14 will be removed from the home for a period of time. No exceptions will be made."

Americans Uninjured In Incident

Buddhists Demand Military Rule Give Way To Civilians

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Hundreds of antigovernment demonstrators poured toward downtown Saigon tonight and burned a U.S. military jeep a few hours after Buddhist leaders demanded that Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime pledge publicly to give way to a civilian government in five or six months.

No Americans were reported injured.

"End the war immediately," said one of the banners carried by the demonstrators. Saigon's mayor, Lt. Col. Van Van Cua, issued orders for the immediate induction into the military of all youths of draft age arrested in the rioting, municipal government sources reported.

As the violence spread, part of the mob turned its wrath on an American civilian and a Vietnamese girl trying to maneuver through on a motorcycle. They drove the couple off with a barrage of rocks and shattered glass windows and doors of a house where they had sought refuge.

The demonstrators dragged off the motorcycle and also set it ablaze.

A jeep with three Vietnamese policemen arrived and hurled tear gas grenades at the mob as flames engulfed the motorcycle to the cheers of the mob. Several more jeeps with American military policemen and Vietnamese security police sped to the scene.

A battalion of paratroopers waded into the rioters and sent them scurrying down side streets. Some began regrouping to continue their descent on the downtown area in the fifth continuous day of unrest in the capital's streets.

The Buddhist hierarchy earlier instructed its militant young supporters to remain quiet until the junta replied to its request for a public pledge to turn over

Youth Placed With State In Fire Hearing

LISBON — A 14-year-old Salineville youth, charged with igniting the March 19 fire which destroyed the Salineville Village Hall, was placed in the permanent custody of the Ohio Youth Commission at Columbus Wednesday.

Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin ordered the action after a review of the case was held in his court, with the youth and his mother attending.

Michael Melillo of Youngstown, arson investigator for the Ohio fire marshal's department, linked the boy — ward of Police Chief Ray Keister — to the blaze which spread from a second-floor music studio.

The boy reportedly told authorities he ignited the blaze in order to destroy fingerprints which he feared would tie him to his entering the studio of Miss Myrtle Strabley prior to the blaze.

The flames destroyed the studio, the apartment of the Keister family, municipal offices and the display room of the Salineville Area Historical Society.

Two small Keister boys were led to safety.

Hearing's Set For Driver In Innocent Plea

A city motorist pleaded innocent today in Municipal Court to a reckless driving charge filled by police after a mishap Wednesday afternoon in which his auto allegedly forced a motorcycle off the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd.", injuring two riders.

Floyd Tweed, 62, of 125 W. 3rd St. entered the not guilty plea before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who set a hearing for April 13.

Injured in the mishap shortly after 3:15 p. m. were John Freeman, 22, of 839 Valley Ave., operator of the 1966 motorcycle, and his companion, Betty Tullis, 19, of the same address. Both were headed west.

Both were treated at Osteopathic Hospital and released.

The charge against Tweed by Patrolman S. E. Hayes alleges that "... while in the act of passing turned his car sharply into the path of the said motorcycle, causing the said motorcycle to run off the road."

Tweed claimed the motorcycle pulled into the side of his station wagon as he was passing.

Two witnesses — Dick Powell of 853 Valley Ave. and Robert Taylor of Boyd St. — told Hayes that Tweed forced the motorcycle off the highway.

A truck driver reportedly was hurt when his truck was rammed from the rear by another truck at Dresden Ave. and Smith St.

Police listed Worthie W. Varner, 46, of Moore Ave., Oakmont, driver of a truck owned by S. & G. Beer Distributors of 1911 Dresden Ave., as injured. He was not treated at either City or Osteopathic Hospitals, the hospitals said.

Police said Varner had halted on Dresden Ave. to make a left turn onto Smith St. yesterday morning when his truck was struck by a J. V. McNicolas Transfer Co. truck operated by Ralph F. LaMarco, 37, of Youngstown.

LaMarco said he had trailed the beer truck from Webber Way, but was unable to halt when Varner signaled a turn.

The two drivers gave conflicting reports after a minor accident at 5:23 p. m. at Broadway and Washington St.

Marko Vernon Steiner, 42, of Calcutta told police he was pulling into a parking space when his 1963 sedan was struck, but police said Edmond P. Fields, 47, of Chester R. D. 1 claimed he was headed south on Broadway and Steiner backed into his 1966 auto.

A parked 1966 two-door auto owned by Mike Turk, Inc., 415 E. 6th St., was damaged when struck by a tractor-trailer owned by S. & W. Motor Lines, Inc., of Greensboro, N. C., and driven by Clyde L. Waisner, 33, of Lexington, N. C.

The rig was turning from Walnut St. into Potters Alley when the trailer hit the auto, police were told.

What Happened To Soviet Crew?

Thousands Of Berliners Flock To Jet Crash Site

BERLIN (AP)—Thousands of West Berliners flocked today to the site in the Havel River where a Soviet Military jet crashed. There was still a mystery as to what happened to the crew.

The Russians said the two-man crew perished when the plane crashed Wednesday afternoon. A British spokesman at the scene in the British sector reported divers had found no bodies.

People lined the rivers' banks and picnicked along nearby wooded trails. The water around the crash scene was reserved for the barges that were working to bring up the plane.

More than a dozen uniformed Russian officers and enlisted men were at the site.

The official news agency Tass reported earlier that the pilot, Capt. Boris Kapustin, and his navigator, Lt. Yuri Yanov, gave their lives to insure that the plane went down in an uninhabited spot.

Later the East German news agency ADN said that Tass had requested that ADN withdraw its version of the Tass story. Later Tass advised ADN to release the story. No reason was given for the change in signals.

The sonic booms of other Soviet planes continued to be heard overhead despite a demand by the U.S., British and French commandants for Soviet authorities to end "reckless flights" over the city.

A U.S. spokesman confirmed that U.S. Army vehicles and "a small number of fully equipped personnel" were posted at seven East-West border crossing points. Informed sources speculated that they were there to block any Soviet attempt to bring salvage equipment into West Berlin.

The early Tass report did not identify the type of plane. Some Western experts guessed that it was a MIG17 but the British spokesman said definite identification cannot be made until the craft is raised.

Youths Cited For Bogus Draft Cards

MOUNT GILEAD, Ohio (AP)—Seven teen-agers have been accused of making counterfeit draft cards and selling them for prices ranging from $1.50 to $5, authorities said here today.

Six of the youths are from Mount Gilead and the seventh from Mansfield, Sheriff Budd A. Bratton said.

The sheriff said two of the youths admitted making at least 30 of the phony cards on duplicating equipment at the places of their employment. The cards apparently were to be used for identification in the purchase of alcoholic beverages.

He said the name of Donna Heimlich, clerk of the Morrow County Draft Board, had been forged on the counterfeit cards.

For forging her signature, Bratton said the youths could be fined up to $1,000 and imprisoned up to five years. The penalty for making the phony cards could be a fine up to $5,000 and 1-15 years' imprisonment, the sheriff said.

It will be up to the FBI to determine what charges are filed against the youths, who range in age from 17 to 19, he added.

Pacific Storms Delaying Flight Of Jerrie Mock

HONOLULU (AP)—Two Pacific storms will delay Mrs. Jerrie Mock's attempt to set a non-stop flight distance record for women, she reported today. She said the storms will keep her grounded until Saturday or Sunday.

Mrs. Mock, of Columbus, Ohio was the first woman to fly solo around the world. She is attempting the eastward flight to beat a record set in 1938 by three Russian women.

Her designation, United States, on a route that will take her over her home town. The Russian women flew 3,700 miles.

Who Feels Inflated?

The same mystery has puzzled generations of economic soothsayers about deflation and inflation.

They never have been able to understand the psychology that causes human beings to feel alternately ebullient and depressed. So the soothsayers have concentrated on graphs and charts that show where the economy has been and try to guess from these where it is going, like the fabled bird that flies backward.

The chairman of the Board of Economic Advisers, charged with responsibility for guiding the White House, is Gardner Ackley, who recently has told U. S. News & World Report he thinks inflationary pressure is coming under control. Mr. Ackley thinks the danger of inflation has been exaggerated.

This puts him at odds with President Johnson, who recently has been telling businessmen he wishes they would trim back an expansion program and is reported to have told Mrs. Johnson, herself, to forget about an addition on the house back at the ranch in Texas.

THIS APPARENT standoff between President Johnson and his chief economic adviser illustrates the mystery of inflation and deflation.

No one can claim enough insight to know when inflation is going to turn into deflation. Nor can anyone predict with certainty when deflation will have run its course and yield to inflation.

One of the curiosities of the era is the fact inflation has been turned into a dirty word in official economics, though inflation is the state of affairs most desired by business enterprise.

To hear federal officials talk, they are willing to do anything to avert inflation, though they know that the alternative to inflation is deflation; there is no static middle ground between the two.

Yet, no one ever speaks of deflation. When it threatens to happen, it is referred to as "adjustment," "recession," a "shakeout" or some other euphemism for "depression."

WHAT THE government actually wants and what everybody else wants is enough inflation to keep the economy from falling apart the way it did in the '30s. What nobody wants is enough inflation to wipe out the value of savings and accelerate depreciation of dollars.

But, also, nobody wants enough deflation to wipe out the value of property and expand the buying power of earnings unnaturally because the earnings become scarce, the way they did in the '30s.

At what point popular psychology causes one thing or the other to happen is indeterminate. Inflation and deflation are moods. They are influenced by many circumstances, probably the least important of which are statements made by public officials.

Herbert Hoover found that out in the Great Depression when he saw bluebirds around the corner while his fellow countrymen saw nothing there but lengthening breadlines.

We'd Hate To See It

Those safety gaddies roosting on the rear decks of the auto designers are currently having the time of their pestiferous lives — and perhaps they may do some good.

But we cannot get enthusiastic about them. They are backseat-driving an industry that managed to get where it is without their presence. We hate to think what automobiles would look like if Nervous Nellies had been in position to second-guess Henry Ford, R. O. Olds, William C. Durant, the Dodge brothers, Walter P. Chrysler and those ingenious Europeans who had a hand in starting the automobile era.

We'd hate to see the cold, bony hand of bureaucracy laid on the auto industry even today when its form has been shaped by its own experience. Bureaucrats are interested only in what they think would be good for people. But the people always have been interested in what they think they'd like — and they don't like bureaucrats.

Are people wrong when they go for a little pizzazz and glamor? The bureaucrats say people should be thinking of saving their lives if they have an accident in an auto. The people say they are more interested in making their lives worth saving and aren't counting on having accidents. They don't buy autos to have accidents in but to have fun in.

These are two different philosophies. If the bureaucratic philosophy had prevailed, we'd still be living in stockades along the Atlantic Coast and riding in horse carts. Nobody would dare to go pioneering. Too risky. Might have an accident. Besides, who would want to trust his life to an Indian?

Local 'Joker'

The joker behind the anonymous false alarm that sent an ambulance, firemen and law enforcement agencies into action in the Chester area ranks as "guest villain of the day" in a real-life drama that puts the "Joker" of Batman fame to shame.

The "Joker" on television at least supplies some entertainment along with his diabolical plots. The local "Joker" was anything but funny. Only a Grade-A moron could have perpetrated Wednesday's hoax, which fortunately led to no untimely tragedy.

It is difficult to fathom the senseless thoughts of a twisted mind. As Robin might put it, "Holy nitwit!"

To Stop Reds—Nothing Else

The possibility that the United States may have to fight on three fronts in South Viet Nam now is coming into view.

The United States has been fighting one enemy in the marshes, rice paddies, jungles and foothills. It has been issuing periodic reports of the death toll it has been taking of this enemy—the formal enemy.

It has been fighting another enemy inside its own lines—a concealed foe who detonates bombs, commits sabotage, goes forth at night armed to the teeth and refuses at all times to make peace with the United States, which it regards as an invader.

And now it is coping with still another unfriendly force—unarmed political opponents of the government of South Viet Nam.

This problem has been perennial, though it has varied in intensity. First, it was Buddhists staging violent protests against a government dominated by South Vietnamese Catholics. They overthrew that government.

They have kept every government since then off balance. Now they are showing signs of being able to overthrow the latest in a succession of governments.

The Buddhist opposition has acquired a new aspect—anti-Americanism. It's a ready-made complaint. As the British used to say about U.S. military personnel in World War II, "They're overpaid, over-sexed and over here."

The South Vietnamese are tired of foreigners. What would happen if the United States found itself fighting the Viet Cong, hostile South Vietnamese and Buddhists simultaneously, with North Vietnamese and Chinese thrown in for good measure? Would it then be possible to go to any further with the pretense that it is in Southeast Asia upholding human liberty, the dignity of man and the right of a republic that never knew the meaning of the word to be a republic?

The United States is in Southeast Asia to thwart Chinese Communism. On no other basis does the war being waged there make sense.

Time For Breakfast

Somebody in the organized egg industry has made a survey showing breakfast is being neglected in most households and skipped entirely in some.

Breakfast is a sensitive subject for me, and if anyone want to know what I think is wrong with the way we do things it's the way people do not pay enough attention to breakfast.

It should be the high point of the day. Instead, it is the low point for many. They get up and stagger off to work in a semi-zombie condition—and no wonder.

Their bellies are empty. Their heads are murky with sleep. They are drained of energy and resourcefulness. They are dead leaves blown hither and yon by the vagrant winds of chance.

No wonder these people louse up everything they lay a finger on before they have had time to come to their senses. For some, this does not happen until mid-day, at which time they zip out for lunch, have a few belts and get back to their responsibilities half-smashed instead of half dead.

They will tell you the thought of breakfast sickens them to the point of death, but whether it does or not someone should strap them in a chair and teach them what it would feel like to start the day with a full tank.

Toil is not as arduous as it was when my father routinely put down five eggs, a stack of wheats, a plateful of bacon or sausage, corn meal mush in season, a mug of boiled coffee and a wedge of mincemeat pie before he faced the world.

But the physiology of man has not changed. The most sedentary worker should never think of leaving the pad fueled with less than an out-sized dish of hot cereal, a deck of toast lathered with preserves, a quadruple shot of orange juice and two cups of starter fluid, with or without heavy cream.

Breakfast can be varied to suit the taste.

Failure to recognize this flexibility has caused many people to despise what they never have experienced.

Have they ever wolfed down French toast swimming in genuine maple sirup?

Or a stack of waffles: Or hand-milled buckwheat cakes?

Or picked a path ambrosially through a tray of assorted cheeses?

Or had a go at an English breakfast of, er, unusual animal parts?

Or tried smoked herring? Or prawns?

Or eggs Benedict?

Or cleaned up the remnants of a tray of canapes from a cocktail party?

Or tied into a lumber-camp menu of steak and home fries?

Or switched the culinary order by having a sundae instead of corn flakes?

Or livened the occasion with a little something in the coffee besides sugar and cream?

Of course they haven't. Otherwise, they wouldn't knock breakfast, the finest meal of the day, the ne plus ultra of gastronomic delight, the sine qua non of human energy, the quintessence of pleasure, the solid rock on which equanimity must be founded if it is to endure past 10 a.m.

How about two golden eggs scrambled light and an English muffin with a jar of strawberry preserves, to get started?

Odd Facts

It is estimated that approximately 40 per cent of the U.S. population visit their dentists regularly. About 33 per cent of Americans receive the age of 35 have lost all their teeth.

From Out Of The Ashes

LBJ First In Heart Of Labor

By Victor Riesel

If Ambassador Arthur Goldberg decides to change careers again, he'll do mighty well as a stage director.

That was evident at the historic party he gave in his 42nd floor Waldorf Towers residence last Saturday night in honor of his intimate friend, David Dubinsky, whose retirement as president of the Garment Workers made global news recently.

The gala affair was replete with nostalgia, proletarian songs, gay music and a unique tribute from President Johnson.

Even Walter Reuther sang as composer-pianist Harold Rome hit the piano with "Sing Me a Song of Social Significance"; and "Gene and Francesca" did folk song renditions of old sweatshop era tunes.

There were 40 selected guests, hand-picked by the ambassador, but it was an intimate gathering nonetheless.

However, the true social significance of the soiree was the intimacy it exhibited which exists between the "elders" of labor and the President of the U.S.

HAD THE PRESSURE of war not been upon him, Lyndon Johnson and his lady would have been there. He could not come, but shortly after dinner Ambassador Goldberg, spokesman for the U.S. to the world congress of nations, arose and read a letter from the White House.

"Dear Arthur: I envy you and Dorothy tonight," said the note. "You are enjoying the privilege of honoring my old friend David Dubinsky. In a real sense you are honoring an American tradition. Every advance towards a great and decent society has been aided by the trail-blazing of pioneers who were determined to help build a better life for people. David Dubinsky is one of those pioneers."

"Though I can't be with you personally, Ladybird and I send warm greetings to a good man whose name is now on the honor roll of American citizens whose leadership enriched the lives of their fellow men."

As the burst of applause eased, Mr. Goldberg looked about the room in which were the U.N.'s Ralph Bunche; Alex Rose, labor's own American blend of Noel Coward and Harold Wilson, soft-spoken Louis Stulberg, Garment Union president and Walter Reuther.

THE AMBASSADOR, with feigned reluctance, said the time had come for speeches — short ones — not such as those delivered at the U.N. or some labor conventions. Even Walter Reuther laughed at the sally. (Newsmen have been known to run a pool on the length of the Auto Union leader's talks.)

Reuther kept the faith. He was brief and also significant. He and Arthur, he said, were "disciples" of Dave Dubinsky.

True it is. These men have made a new world. They have come a long way from the days of Franklin Roosevelt.

Here they were being hosted by a man who had once been their own attorney. He had gone the gamut — labor policy maker, member of a President's Cabinet, Supreme Court Justice and chief representative of the U.S. to the U.N.

As the new president of the Ladies Garment Workers, Lou Stulberg, put it, the world had been made. Now new generations were coming up and they would soon come unto their own. Today's labor leaders had but to "hold the torch" for a bit longer and then make way.

IT WAS STILL the world of the labor men gathered there in Arthur Goldberg's tower suite.

Only one man was missing — George Meany. He would have been there but for his post-operative confinement in the Harkness Pavilion because of hip surgery. But the ambassador had accompanied Mr. Dubinsky to Mr. Meany's bedside the day before the dinner party.

There, on the dresser, was a basket of flowers. It was from President and Mrs. Johnson — the first flowers to arrive. Mr. Johnson had had White House aides keep in close touch with the hospital.

There is significance in the warm letter to the party, and in the party itself and in the flowers. These are not just the mark of good politics. They are the evidence of a strong bond, a friendship superseding the necessities of a balanced ticket and a balanced party.

They mark a friendship which never was achieved by either the aristocratic FDR, the courthouse square-ish HST, or the Bostonian JFK.

"The others were our friends," said one of the labor men after the dinner party, "but nothing like Lyndon Johnson ever happened to the labor movement before."

Court's Role

By David Lawrence

Another Phase Of Rail Dispute

Many people doubtless are wondering why the federal courts ordered the railroad strikers to get back to work or face a big fine. The general impression has always been that the right to strike is unlimited.

The basis on which the court ruled had nothing to do with the merits of the strike itself. It was entirely concerned with the fact that Congress had passed a law setting forth a specific procedure to be followed before a strike would be legal. Leaders of the railroad firemen ignored the various steps that had to be taken and David Lawrence ordered the workers to strike anyhow.

The problem is important because there is a growing demand for action by Congress to protect the public interest. There also is a feeling on the part of many people that Congress should go further than heretofore and should spell out certain limitations on the right to strike, particularly when financial and property damage to the public can be considerable.

Congress thus far has provided only two statutes. One is known as the Taft-Hartley Act. It provides an 80-day "cooling off" period and applies to major industries but not to certain transportation facilities.

THE OTHER LAW is the Railway Labor Act, under which organizations of workers employed by railroads and airlines must go through specific procedures which take at least 90 days. Any strike called prior to the completion of the procedures can be declared illegal. That is why Judge Alexander Holtzoff of the U.S. District Court in Washington ordered that the strike against the railroads be terminated at noon last Sunday. Court officials say a fine of at least $25,000 will have to be paid by the union for the delay in ending the strike.

When the railroad unions threatened a nationwide strike in 1963 as a result of a dispute over "featherbedding," Congress took a hand. It passed a special law requiring that the controversy over work rules be submitted to a binding arbitration. This law said that the arbitration award would expire in two years. The expiration date was March 31 of this year, and the Firemen's Union strike began on that day.

The unions thought that, because they had selected only a few railroads to strike against, there would not be a national emergency and Congress would regard the strike against the eight railroads as a more or less routine affair. Judge Holtzoff told the lawyers for the union that the Supreme Court had frowned on strikes called without letting those procedures be carried out which are specified in the law.

BECAUSE THE UNION failed to utilize the machinery of the Railway Labor Act, refused to wait until an emergency board had reported and didn't permit a cooling-off period of another month, the federal court had the right to find the union in contempt.

The public was misled about the way the railroad strike was actually ended.

It was assumed that, when the court injunction was proclaimed, this would mean an immediate termination of the strike and the trains would promptly resume running, but the railroad union insisted that it had the privileges of postponing the resumption until after an agreement was reached with the railroads binding them not to resort to damage suits.

The railroads stood firmly against any such agreement, insofar as it affected their right to seek damages against the union. They did agree not to seek the punishment of individual strikers for having violated the court order. The reasoning of the railroads was that the men had been misled by their chieftains and that the damages would have to be paid by the union itself out of its own treasury.

IF IT TURNS OUT that labor unions can call an illegal strike and use as a weapon the refusal to settle until the employer agrees not to sue for damages, then there would be no limit or restraint upon the amount of losses that could be incurred by the public, especially in a nationwide strike.

While one union may call a strike affecting its own members, other unions respect the picket lines and thus become themselves parties to the strike indirectly, though they feel they have no responsibility for damages inflicted.

Congress has never examined carefully what restrictions ought to be imposed and what damage suits ought to be permitted when picket lines are set up, whereupon workers who have no grievances at all participate in damaging an employer as well as the public.

Patrol Cites Area Motorist After His Car Strikes Home

A Wellsville area motorist was cited for reckless operation after his car hit the corner of a house in an accident on Route 45, about 50 feet north of the Wellsville corporation limits, Wednesday afternoon at 3:20.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Floyd L. Donohue, 47, of Wellsville R. D. 1 suffered deep cuts of the head and neck in the mishap.

Donohue was driving north on Route 45 when his car went off the left side of the highway and hit the corner of a home owned by Ernest Holland of 1042 Hillcrest Rd.

The corner of the frame home was damaged badly, the patrol reported.

Donohue is in "fairly good" condition at City Hospital with lacerations of the scalp, multiple lacerations of the face and possible skull and back injuries.

Numerous one-car skidding accidents were investigated yesterday morning after rain and snow froze on the highways.

Avis Gay Dysert, 23, of Parkway, R. D. 3, was cited for driving without an operator's permit after her car skidded off County Rd. 435 and into the yard at the home of W. D. Ogilvie of R. D. 3 at 7:10 a. m. She was northbound when the car went off the side of the highway and over an embankment, the patrol reported. She and her 6-month-old son, William T. Dysert, escaped injury.

Lloyd Gearin, 27, of Salineville R. D. 2 escaped injury when his car skidded and struck a guard rail on Route 164, almost a mile south of Route 518 at 6:25 a. m. The vehicle ripped out seven guard rail posts, the patrol said.

Daniel H. Helman, 18, of 232 Lee St., Lisbon, lost control of a panel truck and rammed into an embankment on Route 164, two and four-tenths miles north of Lisbon at 8:50 a. m.

A car driven by Carl E. Gamble, 53, of Academy Ave., Salineville, skidded off Route 164, three and eight-tenths miles south of Lisbon at 6:40 a. m.

The vehicle damaged 30 feet of fence owned by Joseph A. Rowley of Lisbon R. D. 1.

Newell Area Goal Expected To Be Topped For Scholars

The Newell area is expected to exceed its goal in this year's Dollars for Scholars fund campaign, Frank J. Mangano, trustee for the Oak Glen district, announced today.

Pacesetter in the drive, Mangano said, is the Globe Brick Co. at Kenilworth, which has announced through its president, William Porter, a contribution of $500, a 100 per cent increase over last year.

The house-to-house portion of the Citizens Scholarship Foundation drive for the Newell area has been completed, with reports showing almost a 250 per cent increase over 1965, with more than $200 being raised this year.

Anne Jester served as chairman of the house-to-house solicitation. Mangano had high praise for her and her group's handling of the highly successful effort. He also lauded those who served as neighborhood chairman and as individual solicitors.

Businesses and merchants in the Newell area have contributed well over last year's amount, although final figures are not yet available, according to Mangano. Returns from Newell service clubs are also incomplete, but it is hoped that these will be known by April 17, when Mangano expects to have the total campaign completed.

The U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity approved three grants totaling $255,015, including $121,270 grant to set up four centers in Cabell County to provide services for the elderly. Also included in the OEO grants are $119,917 for a building program to aid 100 fathers in the Aid to Dependent Children program in Mingo County and $13,828 to recruit and train anti-poverty program leaders in Boone County.

power to a popularly elected constituent assembly within five or six months.

The Buddhist statement said the government had promised this privately.

Hopes that the month-long political crisis was easing a bit were jolted when 500 demonstrators emerged from the Buddhist compound on the outskirts of the city. As they marched toward the center of the city with their familiar anti-government banners, they attracted hundreds of supporters.

Until then a strange calm had prevailed in Saigon, with no sign of any antigovernment or anti-American agitators.

Heavy fighting flared 20 miles northwest of Saigon between the U.S. 25th Infantry Division and the Viet Cong.

By midafternoon, 24 Communists were reported killed and the shooting was continuing around what appeared to be a Viet Cong base camp in the Ho Bo Woods, an old Red stronghold.

It was the only significant ground action reported for the day.

A government spokesman reported that the Viet Cong shot 25 Vietnamese prisoners in the back just before several government battalions overran a Communist detention camp in Phu Tam hamlet, 70 miles southwest of Saigon, Wednesday. Most of the victims were civilians, and they included three women still in chains and padlocks.

One of the four survivors told the Vietnamese troops and American advisers that they were being held for failing to pay Viet Cong taxes in rice or money.

The political dissension among the Vietnamese did not affect the American combat toll last week but government and Communist losses were down by about 50 per cent.

The U.S. military command reported that 101 Americans were killed, 690 wounded and nine missing compared with 123 killed, 515 wounded and four missing in the week of March 20-26.

Vietnamese killed declined from 318 to 155 and missing from 58 to 28. The government does not announce its wounded.

Other allied forces reported 18 killed and 51 wounded compared with 28 killed and 58 wounded the week before.

Enemy casualties for the week of March 27-April 2 dropped to 962 killed and 73 captured, compared to 1,968 killed and 249 captured the previous week.

The new casualty report raised the number of U.S. losses in Viet Nam since January 1961 to 2,410 killed and 14,727 wounded.

Odd Facts

The gamest fish in the sea is probably the bonfish, in the opinion of the Miami Seaquarium's Capt. Bill Gray, who says "it has the most fight per ounce."

Irish poetry frequently mentions such expressions as "feast of shells" and "hall of shells." This is a reference to the large sea shell used by the ancient Irish as a drinking vessel.

Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, who died at the age of 90 on Feb. 4, was the master builder of the National Geographic Society. He edited its magazine for 55 years.

Private construction in the United States was estimated by the Department of Commerce to have totaled $47.9 billion in 1965, an increase of 4 per cent from the 1964 level.

ty supervising sanitarian, reported the high school had been re-inspected "and found to be clean, with food handling services of high quality." The school is not contributing to the spread of the disease, he said.

Dr. Williams commented, "While the cause of infectious hepatitis is not known, we do know that if every person, young and old alike, carefully washed their hands with soap and water each time they used the bathroom, it would not spread."

He explained that viruses are transferred from unwashed hands to other hands and then into mouths during normal activity.

Sen. Kline said, "I am confident that the officials of the health department have been and will continue to do their utmost to reduce the number of cases. I personally will keep in close touch with the situation."

Before being ruled off the ballot by Brown, he had promised to unveil a "secret weapon" against Rhodes, one he said helped him beat U.S. Rep. Oliver P. Bolton in Allen County in the congress-at-large primary in 1964.

White, after losing the gubernatorial nomination to Rhodes in 1962 by a 520,868 to 59,916 count, lost to Bolton by a 439,456 to 210,508 margin and grabbed 7,968 votes to Bolton's 3,165 in the Lima area.

Rhodes had no comment on the Supreme Court ruling. Brown could not be reached.

improved, and the Communists' ability to mass large numbers of troops safely for an attack has skidded proportionately.

The infusion of 225,000 American and Allied troops in the country lifted the morale of government troops. They are fighting with a new determination. But many of the old problems — poor officers, lack of coordination, slipshod tactics — remain in many units.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the American commander in Viet Nam, has been promised as many American troops as he needs and thousands are in the pipeline.

With them the military pressure can be steadily built up. At present there are not enough troops for the number of large, sustained operations that it will take to drive the Viet Cong into the ground.

In all likelihood a major battlefield showdown of some sort is in the offing. The Communists probably are hard at work devising tactics they hope will counter the massive American firepower advantage.

Reports from defectors and captives indicate North Vietnamese and Viet Cong main forces have been badly hurt, not only by American firepower but physically by malaria and malnutrition and emotionally by being forced to switch from the hunter to the hunted.

Seedlings Arrive For Planting In County Program

LEETONIA — A total of 123,400 trees from three Ohio forestry nurseries at Zanesville, Green Springs and Marietta were delivered Wednesday at the State Highway Garage here.

The seedlings — mostly pines, spruce and black walnut with several other varieties — are to be used by individuals and mining companies for land improvement projects in Columbiana County.

Although the number of trees planted is a sizeable amount, it is still far below the number of trees that should be planted by county landowners to keep up with the land improvement needs in the county, according to soil conservation authorities. Among those obtaining trees were 31 4-H members who will be planting 6,200 trees.

You And The Law

As the gasoline pump clicked off, indicating the car's tank was full, Ned reached for his wallet — and made a sad discovery. The wallet — containing $20, his identification and all his credit cards — was missing.

The attendant was sympathetic and offered help in locating the wallet, but added, "I hope nobody has used those cards yet. You could be in a real jam."

Fortunately, Ned had prepared for just such an emergency. At his home, he had recorded the numbers of all his credit cards and noted whom to contact in just such an emergency. He knew that most companies assert that the card holder is responsible for all expenses charged to the card until they are notified of the card's loss.

WHEN A quick check by telephone failed to uncover the wallet at any of his earlier stops, Ned returned home and notified the companies of the loss.

Many credit card holders are not so well prepared as was Ned. They do not keep appropriate records of credit and charge cards or whom they should contact in the event of loss.

While the card holder is generally responsible for all charges made to the card, many companies attempt to protect their customers (and themselves) by placing various restrictions on the card's use. Some oil companies, for instance, require that a tire, freeze, tires, batteries, etc., be mounted on the vehicle occupied by the card holder. This would tend to eliminate the possibility of a thief buying 20 new tires on a stolen card.

SOME COMPANIES offer special insurance policies to cover use of a stolen card by a thief, limiting the card holder's liability to a specific amount, such as $50. One company offers full coverage if notification of loss comes before the card is used illegally.

You can provide the least expensive protection yourself, however, simply by keeping adequate records of the cards.

How would you fare if your credit or charge cards became lost, strayed — or stolen?

Legend has it that Westminster Abbey, England's royal church, which is celebrating its 900th anniversary this year, was built on the site of a still earlier church built by King Sebert, who died about 616.

Plumbers Union Accused Of Using Discrimination

CLEVELAND (AP)—The U.S. Civil Rights Commission heard testimony about Plumbers Union Local 55 using discrimination in hiring and preferential hiring lists at the commission's fourth day of public hearings Wednesday.

The commission's public sessions end today at a hearing concerning police - community relations.

George Fink, secretary-treasurer of Local 55, testified Wednesday that the fourth Negro journeyman plumber was admitted to the union last Friday night.

Fink told the commission that the local has 1,428 members and a waiting list of 250 "qualified" men who cannot join because jobs are not available.

Negroes were given the chance to join Local 55 in 1955, Fink said, but "I never heard from them until the mail job" — a reference to construction of the Cleveland Mall Convention Center. Work was stopped on the project in 1963 when white plumbers refused to work with Negroes who did not belong to the union.

Commission member Erwin Griswold, a native of East Cleveland and dean of the Harvard law school, asked Fink: "Don't you feel that your union has the responsibility to get Negroes in when qualified?"

"We have never turned anyone down who could qualify," Fink replied.

Another union official, Martin Kilbane, chairman of Local 55 Joint Apprenticeship Committee, said the union application requires a photograph "for identification" and a space to name relatives who belong to the Plumbers Union. Kilbane said the photo requirement is under review by the Ohio Civil Rights office.

2 Youths Injured Seriously In 1 Of 3 School Bus Mishaps

By The Associated Press

Three school bus accidents were reported around Ohio Wednesday, the worst critically injuring two youngsters in Columbus.

Near Massillon, a Tri-City Transit bus and a Perry Local School bus, both carrying pupils, collided but only one passenger was hurt.

In Hardin County, a school bus with 20 youngsters aboard was struck from behind by an auto. The children escaped injury.

The only Wednesday traffic fatality reported in the state after noon involved a Cincinnati area boy who rode his bicycle into the path of a car in Montgomery.

The victim was Rick Doyle, 13, Montgomery.

The Columbus bus accident occurred when the right rear wheel flew off a small van-type bus carrying a dozen youngsters home from a Franklin County school for retarded children. The vehicle overturned.

Charles Ferderber, 16, and Calvin Willis, 13, were reported in critical condition at Children's Hospital where the other passengers were treated and released. Phyllis Kisser, 23, the driver, was treated at Mercy Hospital.

The two-bus mishap occurred a mile east of Massillon on U.S. 30, injuring Ann E. Romar, 15, of Massillon, a passenger on the transit company vehicle.

Elinor Beth Perry, 49, driving the auto in the Hardin County crash, suffered severe head lacerations and possible internal injuries.

Rail Official Denies 3 Lines Run Strike Breaker School

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A railroad official has denied that three rail lines have operated a school for strike breakers at Chester, Pa.

J. L. Hadley, vice president and secretary of the Monongahela Connecting Railroad, Pittsburgh; the Aliquippa & Southern Railroad of Aliquippa, Pa., and the Cuyahoga Valley Railway, Cleveland, Ohio, made the statement Wednesday at a House Labor Relations Committee hearing.

Earlier Wednesday Allen Thomas, 47, testified he had been an instructor at a school to train supervisory personnel to operate railroad equipment. Thomas said he felt the school was teaching "strike breaking."

Hadley said, however, the railroads have 127 fulltime management employees qualified to operate locomotives and switch cars to handle emergencies "such as work stoppages caused by steel strikes, railroad strikes."

He added, "This past summer 54 of these exempt people were given a refresher course in such work at Chester, Pa. No outsiders or non-employees were given this training."

Another witness, William J. Mulling, secretary of the Pennsylvania State Legislative Board of Railway Trainmen, testified he was denied admittance when he went to the Chester Tidewater Terminal, site of the school.

Officially, the head-hunting has ended among the Naga tribesmen of India. But rumors to the contrary persist. Heads are important to the Naga (others, that is) because the Naga believe that possessing the head transfers the victim's strength to the hunter.

The board will meet Monday night at 8 for a regular business session when an appointment may be made to fill the principal post from which William Walters plans to retire at the end of this term.

on March 21. However, they voided the action March 27 after being informed the action was not valid.

The school code states a majority of the entire board is needed to approve the appointment. For a nine-member board, five votes are necessary for the appointment.

Industry Council Begins Plans For Street Repairs

Industry Council set plans for street repairs and posting of identification signs throughout the community at a meeting Wednesday in the borough building.

Ross Sirohm, chairman of the streets and road committee, reported he will instruct the borough street department to patch holes in the pavement with black top this weekend.

Clyde Piquet, chairman of the public works and recreation committee, has been authorized to purchase identification signs for the borough. These signs will be placed at all entrances and exits of the community.

In other action, William Ralph, chairman of the fire and police committee, recommended the reappointment of Roy Hohenshell and Ray Hendershot to the police department.

Council approved the appointments.

Mayor Suchanec reported 29 complaints, four accidents, four arrests and 25 warnings were handled by the police department in March. He also reported that 2,134 miles were covered by the police car.

The mayor recommended that Walter Bratich, dog law enforcement officer, be authorized to lead a drive against stray dogs in the borough.

"Numerous reports have been filed by property owners, whose property has been damaged by roving dogs. Owners are asked to keep their dogs at home."

"Anyone who has complaints about dogs destroying their property are asked to contact Bratich. Owners who fail to keep their pets under control will be fined. Dogs without licenses will be impounded or destroyed."

Bills totaling $2,177 were paid.

Calm Settles Over Campus After Dispute

LORMAN, Miss. (AP) — The Negro against Negro civil rights dispute at Alcorn A&M College settled into pre-Easter calm today after three days and nights of stormy protests.

The highway patrol, which guarded the campus home of Alcorn President J. D. Boyd with 50 troopers during a demonstration Wednesday night, reduced its force to two cruising cars.

No classes were scheduled Friday and students prepared for Easter trips home.

The nighttime demonstration, which followed a day of quiet, started with a noisy snake dance some distance from Boyd's house and ended with about 370 students filing silently by the two-story structure.

Boyd says Negro leader Charles Evers is responsible for the disorders. Evers has said Boyd should be removed from his post for suspending students and firing faculty members involved in civil rights activity.

Evers had flooded the campus with elementary-school children, Boyd said, in order to create trouble. He also denied the charges by Evers, an Alcorn graduate who became state field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Guests included Joe Wilson and Allen Blackburn of the Hanover Township volunteers.

Call Seen On Mandatory Auto Safety Standards

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Warren G. Magnuson predicted today the Senate Commerce Committee which he heads will call for mandatory safety standards for cars.

Magnuson told newsmen this seemed to be the feeling of a majority of the members of the committee, which concluded hearings Wednesday on President Johnson's highway safety legislation.

The administration bill would authorize, but not require, the secretary of commerce to set motor vehicle safety standards after two years.

Magnuson said he thought the committee would amend the bill to direct that standards be issued and also to require the adoption of interim standards pending further research and testing.

Such temporary standards, Magnuson said, could be worked out after consultation with the industry. He said they could provide for collapsible steering wheels, dual brakes and "other things the industry apparently is going to do anyway."

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., who was presiding when the hearings ended, expressed hope that the auto industry would move forward at a rapid pace even though this would mean some financial sacrifice.

As the hearings neared their windup Wednesday, Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., introduced a bill that would require automobile manufacturers to notify owners and the public in general of automobile defects which could cause traffic accidents.

Mondale said the safety standards under the administration's bill would not become effective for three or four years if the proposal is approved. But he said that if his measure is approved it would provide immediate protection.

John S. Bugas, vice president of the Ford Motor Co., urged Tuesday in testifying for the industry that it be given a chance to show what it could do before any federal standards are imposed. He assured the committee that the auto makers had gotten "the safety message."

As part of a voluntary industry program, Bugas appealed for legislation granting immunity from antitrust prosecution to the manufacturers for sharing information and developments in the safety field.

But the head of the Justice Department's Antitrust Division, Asst. Atty. Gen. Donald F. Turner, said in a letter to Magnuson Wednesday that the general argument advanced for this lacks merit.

He noted also that Bugas, in expressing the industry's concern about antitrust action if it engaged in joint safety efforts, had testified it is now under antitrust investigation with respect to exhaust emission devices.

Turner said the charges being investigated by the antitrust division are "of cooperative efforts to suppress, not to promote, the utilization of auto emission devices."

He added this was "a possible type of abuse which hardly strengthens the case for a grant of antitrust immunity."

Toastmasters Review Contest

A report on the district speech contest held at Weirton last week was presented during the meeting of the East Liverpool Toastmasters Club Wednesday night at the Ohio Valley Gas Co.'s office. Fourteen attended.

Charles Cronin finished second in the contest, with eight members attending.

Wednesday's program included Emmett "Skip" Daniels, toastmaster; Keith Cox, topics master; Alvin Babb and Donald Hancock, speech No. 2, and Francis House, chief evaluator. The "bull-thruster" award went to Babb.

It was announced that Daniels will serve as toastmaster during a women's bowling banquet. Members are available for toastmaster functions, Harold Sneddon, president, said.

Further plans were discussed for the charter banquet April 27.

For next Wednesday's meeting the program will include Cronin, toastmaster; Richard Spahr, topics master; Leslie Jones and Howard Claypool, speeches, and Robert Frontz, evaluator.

Easter 'Treats' Held For School Children

An egg hunt was held indoors Wednesday afternoon at McKinley School for the three grades and special class numbering 45 pupils. The mothers assisted, with Mrs. Helen Martin in charge.

2 Countians Are Named In Safety Event

Two Columbiana County winners have been announced in the fourth annual traffic safety slogan-essay contest conducted by the Ohio Department of Highway Safety.

Named in the adult division was Albert R. Girone of 28 Lincoln St., Salineville, whose slogan was "The first thing to save for old age is you," and in the youth division Francis J. Wargo of Southern Local High School, who resides at Salineville R.D. 2. His slogan was "Control Your Car—You'll Go Far."

They will receive certificates signed by Gov. James A. Rhodes and Highway Safety Director Warren C. Nelson.

Judges for the contest were representatives from radio, television and newspapers.

Winner of the grand prize — Ohio's No. 1 license plate and a 1966 safety-equipped Ford Fairlane — was Sherman L. Roney of Massillon. His slogan was "Fasten Your Seat Belts... Heaven Can Wait."

The slogan was "Fasten Your Seat Belts... Heaven Can Wait." The slogan will be used on department stationery, mail imprints and in safety campaigns throughout the year.

"Make Ohio the Safety Belt" was first in the competition for school-age children. Teresa McGraw of Lima submitted the entry.

"Our slogan contest creates a lot of interest in improving traffic safety. I hope every Ohioan will heed these safety slogans," Nelson said. "Your life may depend upon it."

The fuel cell, in which fuel and oxygen convert directly into electricity, was invented in 1839 by Sir William Grove, an English physicist.

Thousands Of Students Jam Florida For Easter Blowout

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Too much fuss, the kids observe. Too much drinking, the police say. And all agree there's plenty of both as thousands of the country's college set hits the beaches and bars for an Easter blowout.

"I've never seen so many policemen before in my whole life," said Bruce Fowler, 18, Atlanta, Ga.

Fowler is one of 40,000 students who have already crammed this town of 37,000. The Chamber of Commerce expects 100,000 to be looting on the white beaches, wandering in the crowded streets and bursting out of the jammed motels by Easter Sunday.

Although hundreds have been arrested since the spring vacations began six weeks ago, Chamber of Commerce President O.L. White said the kids are nothing like the gangs of 1961 and 1962 that tossed sharks into swimming pools, swamped yachts and rioted in the streets of Fort Lauderdale.

Since then, the Fort Lauderdale Easter crowds have shrunk and only 7,500 are expected.

Mothers Given Talk On Summer Classes

Urban Petros, principal, conducted a question-and-answer period on summer school classes during a meeting of the Beaver Local Public School Mothers' Club Wednesday afternoon at the school library.

Mrs. Mildred Powell, lunch room supervisor, discussed the lunch program. Mrs. Margaret Duffy, president, conducted business.

Officers will be elected at the next meeting May 4. A coverdish dinner will be served at 12:30 p. m. in the library.

Over 60 GIs In Cong Hands

Lawyers Show Optimism For Captives' Protection

WASHINGTON (AP) — A small group of southern New Jersey lawyers expressed optimism today on its efforts to protect the legal rights of the more than 60 Americans taken prisoner by the North Vietnamese.

Patrick T. McGahn Jr., an Atlantic City lawyer who founded and heads the Society for the Defense of American Prisoners in North Viet Nam, said its proposal was being forwarded to Ho Chi Minh, president of North Viet Nam.

"After many weeks of waiting," McGahn said in an interview, "we have just received word that our proposal has been forwarded to Viet Nam through the embassy of the United Arab Republic."

"We have been trying to get through, and at times things looked quite black, but it appears now we are making some headway."

The UAR Embassy in Washington notified the society Wednesday it was forwarding the group's plea to Hanoi in order to send it to North Viet Nam through diplomatic channels.

McGahn's proposal to Ho Chi Minh asks for permission to allow the society to visit Hanoi to discuss the terms of the 1949 Geneva Convention regarding prisoners held by a detaining power.

"We hope that we might be afforded the opportunity to visit American prisoners who are being detained by your government," the proposal asserts.

"I'll be satisfied if they will tell me there is no need to go because they intend to abide by the Geneva Convention," McGahn said. He was in Washington the past few days working on his project.

"But only recently, Nguyen Xuan, the North Viet Nam ambassador to Egypt, said in Cairo Americans will be treated like criminals," he said. "If that's going to happen I think they're entitled to be properly represented. I'd hate to see 60 coffins come back to the United States simply because no one offered to help them."

While the U.S. government can't officially sanction the McGahn effort, it is taking unofficial cognizance of the team and provided the society with State Department transcripts which might be helpful. The Logan Act prohibits negotiations with foreign powers by private U.S. citizens.

The society consists of McGahn, 38, a former Marine captain who served in Korea, and three other attorneys, three businessmen and two investigators, including a former FBI agent.

Some 60 American fliers — 34 Air Force and 26 Navy — are believed to be held by the North Vietnamese. Another 46 — 30 Air Force and 16 Navy — are listed as missing but presumed to be alive.

One Merchant Blames Viet War

Men's Clothing Shortage Showing Up Across U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — In Missoula, Mont., a store hasn't had men's boxer shorts, size 34, for three weeks.

"We can't get them," said J. E. Meyer of Missoula Mercantile Store. "I couldn't believe it until I talked to the mill."

Meyer blames stepped-up military buying for the war in Viet Nam for his short supply of shorts.

Shortages of men's clothing and textiles — particularly sheets — are showing up in some stores across the country. Other stores, however, report no supply problems.

Some stores reporting shortages blame the demands of a soaring economy, some the New York City transit strike in January that cut production in the garment industry.

The National Retail Merchants Association issued a bulletin to its members last week, calling on stores to avoid excessive inventory buildups.

Ely R. Callaway, executive vice president of Burlington Industries, Inc., said with the industry operating near capacity, further acceleration of military requirements would produce temporary dislocations in some civilian areas.

Joseph H. Cohen & Sons Inc., which makes men's suits and sport coats, said it has turned one of its eight shops in Philadelphia over to military production.

Col. Robert M. Ferrell, chief of the Defense Personnel Support Center's textile and clothing division, predicts that government apparel and textile demands may triple this year.

He estimates military expenditures for apparel and textiles will soar to between $850 million and $1 billion in the fiscal year ending June 30, the most since the Korean War.

In the previous year, Uncle Sam spent $320 million on textiles and clothing.

A nationwide Associated Press spot check of department and discount stores disclosed reports of shortages of sheets in Juneau, Alaska; men's work clothing in Atlanta, Ga.; shirts in Baltimore, Md.; men's blue jeans in Daisy, Tenn.; and brushed denim pants in Helena, Mont.

Sheer wool suits were reported in short supply in Dallas, Tex.; textiles in St. Louis, Mo.; pillow cases in Cleveland, Ohio; men's cotton slacks in Honolulu, Hawaii; men's suits in New Orleans, La.; men's twills in suburban Phoenix, Ariz.; socks and underwear in Wichita, Kan., and men's clothing in Portland, Ore.

No supply problems were reported from stores checked in Chicago, Des Moines, Iowa; Detroit; Columbus, Ohio; Harrisburg, Pa.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Memphis, Tenn.; Miami, Fla.; Milwaukee, Wis.; New Haven, Conn.; Newark, N.J.; Oklahoma City, Okla.; Philadelphia; Portland, Maine and Washington, D.C.

Earnings, Sales Program Set Up By Westinghouse

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. has revealed a three-point program aimed at exceeding in 1966 record earnings and sales set in 1965.

President D.C. Burnham said at the annual stockholders' meeting Wednesday that while the company topped the $100 million mark for the first time last year, "there is still a substantial potential for additional improvement."

He listed three areas of concentration:

"Cost improvement for our established products and a heightened awareness of the importance of costs in new products."

"Growth in current lines serving the customer with better products and services we now offer."

"Long range growth fostered by the development of broad new areas of business which will help satisfy basic human needs and solve critical and growing problems throughout the world."

Burnham said the emphasis would be placed on more modern manufacturing equipment, automated tools and layout and plant design for the most efficiency.

Production capacity for color television sets will be quadrupled by fall, he said.

Some early printing-ink makers got pretty experimental with their products. Wine was added to the ink. One Frenchman also tossed in a pound of bread crusts and a dozen onions to absorb grease from the boiled

Hunt Continues For 2 In Fall Of Bridge Scaffold

NEW CASTLE, Del. (AP) — Searchers continued to hunt today in the chilly waters of the Delaware River for two men lost when a scaffold collapsed on a new span of the Delaware Memorial Bridge.

Eleven men were thrown from the scaffold 45 feet into the river or 10 feet into a section of freshly poured concrete Tuesday. Paul Artis 41, of Wilmington, and Edward Clark Jr., 36, of Bridgeton, N.J. still were missing today. The others were treated for injuries.

Theodore C. Bright, general manager of the bridge, said the searchers have just about ruled out the possibility the two missing men could have been submerged in the concrete.

A diver searched beneath the bridge Wednesday but found no trace of the men. The diver reported cold temperatures and the murky condition of the water hampered his movements.

10th Attempt Set To Fire Rocket

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, frustrated by nine postponements in 10 days, tries again tonight to launch an Atlas-Centaur rocket on the first test firing of a first double ignition, hydrogen engine in space.

The firing was scheduled for 8 p.m. EST. The shot was postponed twice Wednesday — early in the morning and in late afternoon — because of dangerous winds 25,000-40,000 feet above Cape Kennedy. Two earlier postponements were associated with a power plug that failed to disconnect from the rocket after the countdown reached two seconds on March 29.

NASA tentatively reset the postponed Orbiting Astronomical Observatory shot for 2:36 p.m. Friday. It has been postponed five times due to weather and technical problems.

Cuts Major Nighttime Subway Crime In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — "Operation Crackdown," which put uniformed policemen in every subway and train, has cut major nighttime subway crime by 62.3 per cent in its first year, the Transit Authority says.

But the transit police say they are strained by the extra night work, and demand that the 2,722-member force be nearly doubled.

"Operation Crackdown" was launched one year ago today by the then Mayor Robert F. Wagner after a series of brutal subway murders, robberies and assaults.

He assigned a policeman to every train and station from 8 p.m. to 4 a.m. Because there weren't enough transit police to do the job then, 800 regular city policemen were temporarily assigned to subway duty. The cost was placed at $1.8 million per month, counting the off-day overtime required of 1,000 city police.

Since then, the transit police force has been beefed up, most recently by 612 new officers on March 15. The authority says "operation crackdown" is so effective it will be continued.

The case that launched the plan was the murder of Andrew Mormile, 17, on a subway train in Brooklyn in March, 1965. Half asleep, Mormile was awakened by another youth who demanded cigarettes and money, which Mormile gave him.

A second youth demanded the same, and when Mormile said he had no more, the youth stabbed him repeatedly.

At least 15 persons saw the murder, but it took police several days to locate any of them.

Mormile lay dying only 15 feet from the enclosed motorman's cab at the front of the train, but the motorman was not informed

Fire Department Auction Sale Set

Plans for an auction sale April 16 at 7 p. m. were outlined during a meeting of the Liverpool Township West volunteer fire department Wednesday night at the LaCroft station. The sale will be at the fire hall.

Charles Gause, a Hanover Township trustee, and Guy Digman, a Liverpool Township trustee, were guest speakers.

It was reported a new safety brake has been installed on the tanker truck. The truck drifted during a recent fire call and pinned Arthur C. Marshall, a volunteer, against the pumper truck. Marshall has been removed from City Hospital to Rochester General Hospital.

Ed Emmerring, president, conducted business. The next meeting will be May 4.

Cans Are Stolen At LaCroft Home

Canned goods were stolen from the basement of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Post of Densmore Ave., LaCroft, Wednesday night.

The breaking and entering was discovered at 11:55 p. m. by Mrs. Post. The family had been away for the evening and Mrs. Post found the lock of a door leading from the garage to the home broken when she returned.

She telephoned the Liverpool Township constables, who investigated. Evidence was found of a forcible entry.

The burglar also had forced a door leading into the home.

Authorities said that earlier in the evening a relative had gone to the home and found the garage door padlock opened, but the door leading into the home locked from the inside. Authorities believe the burglar was in the house at the time and was frightened away.

Drama Ends

Country Doctor Surrenders Quietly

ROARING SPRING, Pa. (AP) — The drama of a country doctor defying police arrest was over today without a shot fired. He surrendered quietly.

For nearly 48 hours, heavily armed Dr. Patrick M. Boccagno, 34, refused to budge from his Roaring Spring farmhouse. Police said he threatened to shoot any officer who tried to get in.

Wednesday, the doctor softened and permitted a state trooper to enter. After a heart-to-heart talk, he surrendered without a struggle.

Today, Boccagno was in Hollidaysburg State Hospital under observation. His four children, who were with him in the house throughout the long wait, were back with their mother, Elizabeth, 28.

A constable went to the farmhouse Monday night to serve Boccagno with a surety of the peace warrant filed by his wife. Boccagno turned back the constable and also state police who came later. Officers retreated and decided to wait it out.

The end came after a neighbor John Thompson, got into contact with the doctor on a civilian band radio. Both men had sets in their homes.

On the radio, Boccagno agreed to talk with a state trooper inside the farmhouse.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: In regard to that Boxer dog that snores so loudly he kept the neighbors awake, please tell the owners about a surgical correction that can eliminate the dog's snoring. The operation is performed under anesthesia and is painless.

the day and night. A surgical procedure can "debark" a dog very easily.

Dear NS: I checked with my own vet in Chicago and he tells me that the debarking operation is fine but he would not fool around with the debarking procedure for anything in the world.

He insists that a dog does know something has been done to his vocal chords and the frustration is very hard on his nerves. So back to the earplugs, Buster.

Speechless Speaker

Dear Ann: I have been running away from this problem for years and it has been making me miserable. Maybe you can help.

I'm 29 now, have a lovely family and a good life. But I can't get up before a group and give my name and address without shaking for half an hour after. I know it's silly but I can't help it.

In high school and college I faked laryngitis, toothaches, anything to get out of talking before the class. The times when I could not get out of it I'd get so nervous I'd almost pass out.

I'm not shy with friends and can entertain large groups in my home with no feelings of insecurity whatever. Please tell me what to do.—REDDING ROSE.

Dear Red Rose: If there is a Toastmasters Club in your town, join it. I also recommend a public speaking course if one is available.

The fear of going to pieces finishes you before you start. The best way to conquer the fear is to meet the situation head-on and say to yourself, "I will not let this defeat me." Then do the thing you are afraid of. If you simply can't make yourself do it, see a psychiatrist and work with him to remove the psychological block.

Out Of Focus

Dear Ann: A boy in the senior class (age 17) worries me. He is very good looking, smart, and well liked, but he lives in a world of cameras.

Hal never has had a date in his whole life. His deplorable state can best be described by this incident:

I said to him last week, "How come you never go out on dates?" He replied, "I can't afford dates. I just spent $300 on a camera."

I'm not bragging, Ann, but I'm a popular girl and there isn't a boy in our class (except this nut) who wouldn't be proud to take me out. What can I do about him?—NEW HAVEN.

Dear New: It's funny that a girl who can get a date with any fellow in the class, but the one she's interested in is the nut who doesn't know she's alive.

Leave him alone and he may get the picture.

Holy Saturday will feature the blessing of food at noon. Parishioners are asked to place their baskets along the communion rail. Confessions will be from 2:30 to 5 p.m. No confessions will be heard Saturday night.

Willson Told To Resign His Council Post

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Seventy college music teachers have written President Johnson that Meredith Willson, the "Music Man" composer, is not qualified to be on the National Council of Humanities. They also urged Willson to resign.

They said they were shocked and disappointed over the selection of Willson as the only musician on the council, established under the Arts and Humanities Act last year. President Johnson appointed its 26 members in January.

The professors, in a letter to the President dated March 30 and released Wednesday by Prof. Arthur Mendel of Princeton University, said Willson's accomplishments were limited to commercial entertainment. He is best known for composing "Music Man," a long-running Broadway musical which was made into a motion picture.

"These things are enterprises designed to make money, do not need government support, and are unrelated to the purposes of the act," the letter said.

The purpose of the act was to give evidence of the nation's high quality as a leader in the realm of ideas and of the spirit. Congress declared when it was adopted.

Newsprint Set To Go Up $5 Per Ton On June 1

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices of newsprint, which once had been scheduled to rise $10 a ton this spring, are now headed to go up $5 a ton June 1.

On Wednesday, the Southland Paper Co. of Lufkin, Tex., became the 16th newsprint manufacturer to announce price increases.

The price increase trend started March 3 when Crown Zellerbach Canada Ltd. announced it would hike prices $10, making them $124 a ton west of the Rocky Mountains.

Ten companies followed suit. But then, International Paper Sales Co. Ltd. announced an increase of $7 a ton, and Great Northern Paper Co. and Kimberly-Clark Corp. announced increases of $5.

These announcements were made after the American Newspaper Publishers Association called the $10 increases "unwarranted and unjustified" and asked the paper manufacturers to reconsider.

Prices held only on the West Coast.

There were price rollbacks by some companies elsewhere.

Most newsprint contracts call for prevailing prices, industry sources said. So it was likely that all prices would go up at the same time, probably June 1.

The publishers' association said it had no comment on the rollbacks.

Fuel cells are in use in space now but some day they may power everything from rockets to the family television set. The cells convert fuel and oxygen directly into electricity. The nice part is that theoretically any fuel will do: ammonia, alcohol, sawdust, decaying leaves or even rotten coconuts.

East Liverpool Estimated At 21,912

Ohio Population Listed At 10,564,144 July 1965

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Department of Development has made its annual estimate of Ohio's population midway between the decennial federal censuses, showing continuing over-all gains.

Miss Arlene Eis, chief of the department's population studies, listed Ohio's population as of July 1, 1965, at 10,564,144, almost 9 per cent over the 1960 federal census.

The state population made in July, 1964, was set at 10,425,175.

Miss Eis made these points: More than 72 per cent of all Ohioans lived in incorporated areas (of this total 87 per cent lived in cities and 13 per cent in villages) and almost 28 per cent in unincorporated areas.

Cleveland continues to be the largest city in the state with a population of 848,108; Columbus second with 529,532, and Cincinnati third with 497,946.

In the state's standard metropolitan statistical areas, Cleveland (Cuyahoga, Geauga, Lake and Medina counties) was substantially larger than any other Ohio area with 2,086,585 persons. The Cincinnati area was second followed by Columbus in third place.

The report said the Lake-shore Uplands region in the northeastern corner of the state leads all other regions in population with 4,466,897 persons. It continues to be followed by the Miami Valley region in southwestern Ohio, with a population of 2,421,066; and in third place the centrally located Scioto Valley region with 1,212,743.

By percentage, the Scioto Valley region has experienced the strongest gain since the 1960 federal census, having increased more than 12 per cent.

Membership Up For GOP Group

Thirty-five attended a meeting of the East Liverpool Area Men's Republican Club Tuesday night at the Potters Savings and Loan Co. annex.

Dave Sakol, membership chairman, said the membership to date is double that of last year.

The combined men and women's clubs will hold a dinner April 27 at the Elks Lodge. Tickets may be obtained from members.

G. William Brokaw, president, conducted business. Lawrence R. Sixt gave the financial report.

Candidates present were Robert Bell of Steubenville, state senator; Clarence Wetzel, seeking re-election as state representative; Robert Dutcher of Salem, Albert C. Althouse, Charles J. Gause of Hanover, and James Boyd, incumbent, candidates for county commissioner.

Big Bend National Park on the Texas-Mexico border is so isolated and rugged that only 200,000 persons visited the park in 1965, as compared to Yellowstone National Park which had two million visitors in 1965, and five million who visited the Great Smokies.

Association Will Sponsor Friday Rites

The East Liverpool Ministerial Association will sponsor Good Friday services at the First Methodist Church from noon to 3 p. m. with the theme "The Seven Sayings To the Cross."

Seven ministers will participate, with 25-minute talks on the theme.

There will be special music at various intervals during the three-hour service.

Beatles Slated For Appearance In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—The second Cincinnati appearance of the Beatles—"yeah, yeah, yeah"—will be in Crosley Field the night of Aug. 20, the sponsors announced today.

A spokesman for Radio station WSAI, one of the sponsors, said tickets will go on sale at 9 a. m. April 16 at the Crosley Field ticket offices on a first come, first serve basis. No mail orders will be accepted, he said.

Crosley field, home of the Cincinnati Reds baseball team, has a seating capacity of around 30,000 and it was predicted that all seats would be sold in one day.

The Beatles, millionaire British singing quartet first appeared here Aug. 27, 1964 before a capacity audience of 13,326 at Cincinnati Gardens. Requests then for 12,000 additional tickets were turned down.

Police reported no trouble during the Beatles 1964 appearance, except for massive traffic jams and excitement among teen-agers at the Gardens.

Newsman Claimed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Fred Storm, 66, former president of the White House Correspondents Association and the National Press Club, died Wednesday at his desk at the San Francisco Examiner. Storm started his long newspaper career for the Frank Gannett newspapers in Rochester, N.Y., and later was White House correspondent for the United Press. Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: After having pets for many years, I have learned you can spoil a pet by feeding it leftovers. Be sure to mix dog food into all of the good leftovers, for if you don't, and the day comes when there is no good homecooking for the pet, it will refuse to eat canned food.

I learned long ago that no matter how many good pieces of steak, etc., are left, that if I do not cut it up, chop up the canned dog food which I want him to have, and mix the two together, it spoils every pet we've had so far.

MARGE CRUMP.

DEAR HELOISE: I use elastic thread in my bobbin, and sew three rows one-eighth apart around the cuffs of pajamas, when elastic is called for.

It does not bind as regular elastic does, and always gathers evenly.

MRS. PAUL DELUCIO.

DEAR HELOISE: Recently I bought a new frost-free refrigerator. The instructions said to vacuum the motor frequently.

Since there was no room under the refrigerator to vacuum, the store's service department advised me to blow the dust out instead.

Now it has occurred to me that I have never used the blower on my vacuum cleaner enough. But, since receiving the advice about the refrigerator, I have been getting out dust not only under the refrigerator but under the range, washing machine, living room heater, screens, bookcase, cupboards, in and on window sills, etc.

Perhaps other women, too, are overlooking this convenience.

MRS. A.

Thanks to you, Mrs. A., for your hint. You're a doll.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I sprinkle the jeans for my family, I crease them, then I roll them on the creases.

When ironing times comes, I don't have to take the time to crease them, and they sure seem to iron easier, especially the youngsters' watch pockets.

B. BROWN.

DEAR HELOISE: Often we girls have trouble describing exactly how we want a beauty operator to fix our hair.

Sometimes at home when I don't plan on going anywhere or seeing anyone, I will do my hair myself, and get it to look exactly the way I want it to.

I asked my neighbor to take three snapshots — front, back and side.

The next time I went to the beauty shop, I showed the operator the pictures.

Time saved, I was satisfied, and everyone was happy!

EVE INGMIRE.

DEAR HELOISE: I wonder if other young mothers realize that diapers make wonderful little bath towels for baby?

The diapers are so soft and absorbent, and take less time to dry than towels.

MARIANNE EDWARDS.

DEAR HELOISE: Our children always thought they spent a good long time brushing their teeth — when we could see their brushing was insufficient.

We bought an egg timer so they could time themselves, and their teeth have really improved.

I, too, was surprised at how a short time I had brushed mine before. So, it's a good hint for adults as well as youngsters.

MRS. PAUL OLLER.

DEAR HELOISE: If you prefer to hang your tufted or cotton pile scatter rugs on the line to dry after washing them, use a hair brush to fluff them up.

Brush up the tufts or pile while still wet. Aids in faster drying, and the rugs look fluffier and like new again.

Jobs, Production And Income Rose In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG (AP) — Overall employment, production and income increased in Pennsylvania during February, a Pennsylvania State University business analyst said today.

Ned Shilling said the gains were smaller than the usual January to February change, but on a seasonally adjusted basis, business activity was well above last December's pace.

Unemployment in the state dropped to an estimated 211,000 persons in February, he said, or about 4.6 per cent of the total labor force.

Shilling said steel production totaled nearly 2.4 million tons for the month and the output is continuing to rise.

"In general," he said, "the economic situation could be described as one of rising prosperity, near capacity operation in many industries and with very little slack in the supply of labor."

Mount Vernon's On All-American Winners' List

NEW YORK (AP) — The city of Mount Vernon, Ohio, was among 13 that were named today as winners of the All-America City title by the National Municipal League and Look Magazine.

The awards cited in particular "sick or injured" cities that were put back on the road to health through action of citizens.

Mount Vernon's award was for attracting new business and passing bond issues for city construction.

Among other winners were three Alaska cities devastated by an earthquake in 1964. They were Anchorage, Seward and Valdez, which were cited for their comeback.

Dr. George H. Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion, head the jury that selected the winners.

There were 142 entries in the contest.

Tobacco products yielded about $2 billion in federal taxes last year.

Writer Chooses Detroit To Take American Loop

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Picking the American League used to be a breeze. Put the Yankees on top, Washington at the bottom and then fill in the spaces. It doesn't work out that way any more.

It probably is safe to eliminate Kansas City, Boston and Washington before a bat is swung in anger. After that sixth-place finish, 25 games back, New York almost goes into the same category. Almost but not quite.

There are those who believe the Yankees still may awaken and regain their lost glory. However, they are in the minority. Mickey Mantle is only a pinch hitter, Tony Kubek is retired and Jim Bouton still is looking for that fast ball.

This shapes up like a typical National League-type race with five of six teams having a chance at it. Minnesota has the bombers and Baltimore has added Frank Robinson's power. Eddie Stanky has the Chicago White Sox hustling and Cleveland is thinking big.

Granted that every club has a weakness that could prove fatal, Detroit looks like the best bet to this observer with a good balance of young and experienced pitching and pretty fair sock. Chuck Dressen will cook the chili and pull the strings. All he needs is a solid bullpen man and a little bit of luck in avoiding injuries.

At this time of year on a clear day you can see forever. It may look different in October. The following predicted order is guarantee to put the kiss of death on the Tigers:

1. Detroit
2. Baltimore
3. Minnesota
4. Chicago
5. New York
6. Cleveland
7. California
8. Washington
9. Boston
10. Kansas City

Dressen can match any staff with Denny McLain, Joe Sparrman, Mickey Lolich from the kiddie corps and Bill Monbouquette and Hank Aguirre from the oldsters. With Dave Wickersham for relief or spot starts, it looks like the best staff in the league.

A healthy Al Kaline and the slugging of Willie Horton and Norm Cash give Detroit solid run potential. The infield is solid, but not brilliant, and the addition of Dick Tracecki to back up the regulars should help. The Tigers are very thin in catching behind Bill Freehan.

Baltimore has the big boom with Boog Powell, Frank Robinson, Curt Blefary and Brooks Robinson but the absence of Dick Brown, who underwent brain surgery, leaves a gap in the catching department. It remains to be seen if Hank Bauer

Put Team In Milwaukee By 1967, State Demands

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee-Atlanta tug of war over the Braves is nearing an opening day showdown.

The State of Wisconsin made a dramatic shift in position Wednesday as the trial of its antitrust suit against the Braves and the National League closed with an oratorical clang.

Special counsel Willard S. Stafford asked Judge Elmer W. Roller to order the Braves back to Milwaukee this season only if the league failed to agree by Tuesday to give Milwaukee an expansion team for 1967.

Tuesday is when the Braves are scheduled to open their National League season in Atlanta after 13 years in Milwaukee.

It was the first time the state publicly dropped its unconditional demand for baseball in 1966, a demand baseball officials have said could not possibly be met.

Baseball has not ruled out expansion to include Milwaukee in 1967.

Roller, who was told by baseball attorneys that he could not succeed in ordering the Braves back to Milwaukee, reserved decision in the case until this weekend. The white-haired Milwaukee County circuit court judge promised a ruling by Saturday or Sunday.

Baseball attorneys went through with their final arguments as if no offer had been made. But Baseball Commissioner William Eckert said in Washington:

"This is a development that the National League will have to take under consideration. It will have to be studied. So many times, I wish this matter could be settled to everyone's advantage. Baseball will have to take a good look at it."

Roller already has ordered the Braves and the league to prepare for baseball in Milwaukee this season, but a superior court judge in Fulton County, Ga., has told the Braves to honor their contract to play in Atlanta. A U.S. district court judge in Houston, Tex., has can find enough pitching to make up for the loss of Milt Pappas to Cincinnati. Dave McNally and Steve Barber on the starting line and Dick Hall and Stu Miller in the bullpen are the solid staff members.

There is a disposition to believe that the Twins won't do it again but this may be a horrible mistake. With Harmon Killebrew, Tony Oliva, Don Mincher, Jimmie Hall and Zoilo Versalles the defending champs have plenty of muscle. A second base gap and a leaky defense are the drawbacks. A healthy Camilo Pascual and a repeat of 1965 by Mudcat Grant could carry the Twins right into another World Series.

Stanky has been doing it with mirrors so far this spring, just like Al Lopez did for years with the White Sox. The pitching is only as solid as the bullpen pair of Eddie Fisher and Hoyt Wilhelm, who has been handicapped by a broken finger. The Sox hung in there last year, finishing second with Juan Pizarro winning only six games. If Eddie can do better he should be the manager of the year.

The Yanks' problems are many, starting with Mantle who has been limited to pinch hitting duties as he recuperates from shoulder surgery. Roger Maris appears to be back in the groove and Elston Howard is healthy.

Whitey Ford and Mel Stottlemyre are the solid pitchers. Two rookies, Roy White and Bobby Murcer, can hit but it remains to be seen if they can do the job in the field.

Cleveland packs good power in Rocky Colavito, Leon Wagner, Max Alvis and Fred Whitfield. Sam McDowell, Sonny Siebert and Luis Tiant provide a pitching nucleus.

The Angels hope to make a splash in their new Anaheim, Calif., home but the first division probably is beyond reach. Washington's pitchers have been getting bombed in the South and Gil Hodges may be pressed to hold eighth place.

Boston still hits homers, but the youth program still is light years away. Kansas City has brought in Alvin Dark to handle a club that is short of everything but hope although their hitters can shake up a few pitchers.

Davis Drives In Winning Run For Tribe

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — "It was a good one to win because we did nothing mechanically wrong," said Manager Birdie Tebbetts after the Cleveland Indians beat the Los Angeles Dodgers, 6-5, in an exhibition game.

Rookie Bill Davis drove in the winning run Wednesday with a bases-loaded single in the ninth inning.

Starter Luis Tiant gave up three runs in the first inning but the Cuban right-hander settled down after the outburst and blanked the Dodgers until he left in the fifth.

Cleveland tied the score at 3-3 in the second with four hits off starter Don Sutton, including Vic Davalillo's two-run double.

Larry Brown's solo homer in the fourth put the Indians ahead but the Dodgers took a 5-4 lead at Lee Stange's expense in the seventh when Al Ferrara walked, Willie Davis tripled and Wes Parker hit a sacrifice fly. Duke Sims' bases - empty homer in the eighth set the stage for the Indians' winning rally.

Dick Howser opened the ninth with a walk and went to third on Leon Wagner's single to center field. Wagner took second on Willie Davis' throw to third. Rocky Colavito was walked intentionally and Davis followed with his game-winning single.

Outfielder Continues RBI Pace

Robinson Raps 8th Homer To Pace Oriole Victory

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Fortunately for the Baltimore Orioles, Frank Robinson is not four years younger.

If he were, the 30-year-old Robinson probably would still be with the Cincinnati Reds, and the Orioles would not have his potent bat to help them in their quest for the American League pennant.

Robinson socked his eighth homer of the spring Wednesday, a two-run blast that gave the Orioles a 2-0 victory over the New York Yankees.

The veteran outfielder rapped three hits, raising his exhibition average to .388. The homer, following Curt Blefary's double in the sixth inning, increased his runs batted in total to 17.

All of this has come in Robinson's first spring away from the Reds, for whom he toiled for 10 seasons. He was traded last Dec. 9 for pitchers Milt Pappas and Jack Baldschun and outfielder Dick Simpson.

Robinson's homer supported the combined two-hit pitching of Jim Palmer, Eddie Watt and Stu Miller. Palmer held the Yankees hitless for five innings, but pitcher Al Downing doubled against Watt in the sixth.

Ray Sadecki and Dennis Aust collaborated on a four-hitter as St. Louis downed Philadelphia 5-1. George Kerner drove in three Cardinal runs and lashed two singles and a double.

Cincinnati edged Minnesota 3-2 on Tommy Harper's run-scoring infield single in the ninth inning. Deron Johnson singled, raced to second as Pete Cimino uncocked a wild pitch, moved to third on a ground out and dashed across as Harper beat out the hit down the third base line.

A seven-run explosion in the sixth inning carried Boston past the New York Mets 8-7. Tony Conigliaro doubled across one run in the inning and walked with the bases loaded for the eventual winning run. Dick Stuart hit a three-run homer for the Mets in the eighth.

Cleveland nipped Los Angeles 6-5 on Bill Davis' bases-loaded, run-scoring single in the ninth. Duke Sims and Larry Brown homered earlier for the Indians.

Eddie Mathews homered in the first inning and sparked Atlanta to a 3-1 victory over Houston while Ty Cline's run-scoring single and Wes Covington's sacrifice fly gave the Chicago Cubs a 3-1 victory over California.

Kansas City defeated Washington 5-1 with a 14-hit attack, including three hits each by Bert Campaneris, Jose Tartabull and Ken Suarez.

Rookie Ollie Brown slugged a grand-slam homer in San Francisco's 13-4 decision over its Phoenix farm team.

Masters Golf Opens Today, 103 Entered

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Ken Venturi says it's time somebody ends the Big Three's domination of the Masters Golf Tournament, and the dapper Californian would like nothing better than to bump Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player out of the winner's circle.

"If somebody else wins, that might shake up the Big Three a little," said Venturi, one of the early starters today among 103 golfers in the opening round of the classic on the Augusta National Course.

Venturi, making his 10th Masters bid, is one of a handful of outsiders given a chance to whip the trio that has won the past six championships.

"My hands are feeling pretty good now, as long as it is hot," said the 34-year-old two-time runner-up whose career was nearly ended before an operation helped his hands, stiffened by a circulatory ailment.

"The drier the course gets, the better my chances are," added Venturi. "A lot more people will be in the running if the course gets hard, because they will be able to keep up better with Nicklaus' driving."

Strong winds have dried the course during the past few days after it was softened by a Sunday rain.

"Nicklaus and Palmer definitely have to be reckoned with on this course, though, because there is no premium for accuracy and no substitute for length," Venturi twice missed winning the Masters. In 1956 he almost became the first amateur to win the title, but after leading for three days shot himself out of the championship with an 80. In 1960 he lost by one stroke to Palmer, who also won the title in 1958, 1962 and 1964.

Those setbacks were forgotten by Venturi fans two years ago when he won the U.S. Open with a courageous showing on a hot, humid day in Washington.

"That's the kind of weather I'd like now," Venturi said.

Venturi twice missed winning Sanders, Bruce Devlin, Gay Brewer Jr., Tony Lema and Billy Casper as the most dangerous challengers to the Big Three.

Nicklaus and Palmer played a head-to-head practice nine Wednesday in their final tuneup, and finished even with one-under-par 35, Palmer said.

Both are working with new clubs. Nicklaus said he still doesn't feel comfortable with the driver he got after shattering in South Africa the driver he used since turning pro in 1962.

Player, who said he has been playing reasonably well in the practice rounds, has recovered from a bout with the gout that sidelined him last fall.

Reds Are Picked To Win National League Pennant

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Maloney and Sammy Ellis, Cincinnati's answer to Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale, may not make fans forget the Dodgers duo, but they could lead the pitching-rich Reds to the National League pennant.

Although Koufax and Drysdale have returned to the Dodgers staff following a collective 32-day hold-out, the addition of trade-acquired Milt Pappas and Jack Baldschun to the Reds' pitching staff figures to lift them to the top spot for the first time since 1961.

But Maloney and Ellis will have to do for the Reds what Koufax and Drysdale did for the world champion Dodgers last year — provide that EXTRA that teams need to come out in front in the perennial five or six-team battle for the NL flag.

The Cincinnati duo won 42 games between them last year, joining Koufax and Drysdale as the only 20-victory pairs in the majors. Maloney outdid Koufax in one department by pitching two no-hitters, and Ellis put together his 22 victories in his first season as a starter.

Here then is the predicted order of finish:

1. Cincinnati
2. Atlanta
3. San Francisco
4. Los Angeles
5. Philadelphia
6. Pittsburgh
7. Chicago
8. Houston
9. St. Louis
10. New York

The Cubs can't win the pennant, even with Leo Durocher as manager. The Astros still are building, the Cardinals are rebuilding and the Mets still are trying to lay the foundation.

That leaves six possibilities, and any one of them could wind up on top after game No. 162. However, the edge seems to be with the Reds because of their strong pitching.

For starters there are Maloney, Ellis, Pappas, veterans Joey Jay, Joe Nuxhall and John Tsitouris and Jim O'Toole, who had a disastrous 1965, with a 3-10 record but at 29 should be able to make a substantial comeback.

Baldschun, who appeared in 65 games for Philadelphia last year, adds strength to the bullpen that was weak last season. He will join fireballing Billy McCool, giving the Reds a solid righty-lefty combine.

To get Pappas, the Reds gave up hard-hitting Frank Robinson, but there shouldn't be too much of a drop-off in run production with such bats in the line-up as Deron Johnson, Gordy Coleman, Vada Pinson, Pete Rose, young, improving Tommy Harper and rookie infielder Tommy Helms.

Atlanta has all the ingredients with heavy hitting in Hank Aaron, Joe Torre and Ed Matthews plus solid pitching in 24-game winner Tony Cloninger, Ken Johnson and Wade Blasingame. The Braves also may be helped psychologically by having left Milwaukee.

The Giants have the incomparable Willie Mays and one of the best pitchers in the business, Juan Marichal. That's enough to make them pennant material. In addition, Lindy Mc

Boston, St. Louis Win In Playoffs

By The Associated Press

Maybe Wilt Chamberlain and the Philadelphia 76ers won't win the big prize in the National Basketball Association after all.

Their pride stung when the 76ers ended their nine-year domination in the Eastern Division, the aroused Boston Celtics trounced the 76ers for the second straight time Wednesday night 114-93.

It was Boston's fourth straight victory in the NBA playoffs since they rallied from a 2-1 deficit to eliminate Cincinnati in the Eastern Division best-of-five semifinal. The Celtics now lead the 76ers 2-0 in the best-of-seven Eastern Division final, which resumes tonight in Philadelphia, and seem headed for their eighth straight NBA title.

St. Louis whipped Los Angeles 120-113 in the Western Division finals and now trail the Lakers 2-1 in the best-of-seven series, which resumes Saturday night in St. Louis.

When Philadelphia thwarted Boston's hopes for a 10th straight Eastern Division crown, Chamberlain, the league's Most Valuable Player, said, "This is just a down payment on the big one," referring to the league championship that goes to the winner of the playoffs.

A sellout crowd of 13,909 at Boston Garden saw big Bill Russell pace the Celts as they led all the way in routing the 76ers.

Russell had 29 rebounds, nine assists and 10 points in addition to many steals and blocked shots. Chamberlain ended with 25 rebounds and 23 points.

Neither Chamberlain nor Russell would discuss the animated jawing duel they had during a skirmish between Bill Cunningham of Philadelphia and Larry Siegfried of Boston.

"It's a dead issue as far as I'm concerned," Chamberlain said. "What I had to say, I said to him."

Russell said Wilt showed him a scrape on his arm.

"While the others were fighting, we discussed the best way to stop a scrape from bleeding," Russell said.

Cunningham said, "It was just one of those things. But my own frustrations are no reason to fight."

Siegfried would only comment: "It was a good win."

Bill Bridges, with 27 points, sparked St. Louis over the Lakers before a hometown turnout of 8,318. The Lakers, winners in the first two games of the series at Los Angeles, took an early lead.

Chamberlain also won the honor in 1960 and 1964.

Cincy Edges Minnesota To Snap Streak

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds are heading north on a winning note.

They snapped a four-game losing streak Wednesday, beating the Minnesota Twins 3-2 in an exhibition game at Orlando, Fla.

Today, the Reds meet the Chicago White Sox here in the first of a four-game series that ends Sunday in Indianapolis. The Reds open the season Monday against the New York Mets.

Reliever Jack Baldschun relieved Jim O'Toole in the eighth inning against Minnesota and held the Twins hitless and runless the rest of the way.

Minnesota had tied the game 2-2 in the eighth—before Baldschun came in to end the rally. He retired the side in order in the ninth.

The Reds' won on Tommy Harper's single in the ninth that scored Deron Johnson, who also had singled and advanced to third on a wild pitch and a groundout.

Leo Cardenas homered for Cincinnati.

Jim Maloney appeared to be getting into shape. The right-handed pitcher, who was a holdout for 25 days, hurled the first five innings and held the Twins to three harmless singles.

'The Stilt' MVP For Third Time
BOSTON (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain, the Philadelphia 76ers' super star, has been named the National Basketball Association's Most Valuable Player for the third time by the U.S. Basketball Writers Association.

Chamberlain, who led the 76ers to the Eastern Division title while setting an all-time career scoring record, was the first choice selection on 20 of 24 ballots.

Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers received three first place votes and Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals the other in the balloting announced Wednesday.

Chamberlain also won the honor in 1960 and 1964.

Dietzel Given 10-Year Pact At S. Carolina

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—Paul Dietzel said he considered three other coaching offers this spring before deciding to leave Army to become head football coach and athletic director at the University of South Carolina.

Dietzel, given a 10-year contract Wednesday at a reported $25,000 to $35,000 a year, succeeded Marvin Bass, who resigned to become head coach and general manager of the new Montreal team in the Continental League.

Dietzel did not reveal the other offers.

The Cadets were 21-18-1 in four years under Dietzel, with a win and a tie in four games with arch rival Navy.

Griffith-Tiger Title Bout Slated April 25

NEW YORK (AP)—Welterweight champion Emile Griffith and middleweight Champion Dick Tiger signed Wednesday to fight April 25 for Tiger's title in Madison Square Garden.

Griffith, of New York, hopes to hold both titles at the end of this month, but Tiger has his eyes on a victory over Griffith, then a title bout with Jose Torres, the light heavyweight champion.

Black Hawks, Montreal Are Big Favorites

By The Associated Press

The regular season champion Montreal Canadiens and the second-place Chicago Black Hawks are favored to win the best-of-seven Stanley Cup semifinals opening tonight. But Chicago Coach Billy Reay, for one, isn't taking the opposition too lightly.

Chicago won 11, tied two and lost one against the Detroit Red Wings, their semifinal opponents, in season play.

Reay, though, looked at it this way on the eve of their first Cup match in Chicago Stadium:

"The Wings will be tough. There's all this talk of us winning in five, but you can't count on that. I'm ready for a seven game series. It won't surprise me if they come out flying."

Coaches of the Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs said they were certain their teams would turn in superior performances in the series starting in the Montreal Forum.

"I'm very confident about our chances against the Maple Leafs," said Toe Blake, Montreal's bench boss. "We closed the season with a rush and that will help our chances."

"We have a better bench than last year," said Toronto pilot Punch Imlach. "This makes us a better club than a year ago and I don't think the Canadiens have improved that much."

The Leafs had the edge in the season series between the clubs, beating Montreal seven times, losing five, with two ties.

The Canadiens, defending Cup titleholders, eliminated the Leafs in a six-game semifinal, then beat the Hawks in seven for the title last year.

The second games of the semifinals will also be played on Montreal and Chicago ice, the Montreal-Toronto tilt on Saturday night and the Hawks-Red Wings meeting Sunday afternoon.

Pirates Buy Bob Purkey

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates announced today the purchase of knuckle ball pitcher Bob Purkey from the St. Louis Cardinals in a straight cash deal.

Purkey, who played for the Pirates for three seasons before being traded to the Cincinnati Reds in 1957, will report tomorrow to Fort Lauderdale, Fla. The price wasn't disclosed.

The 36-year-old Purkey, a right-hander, had his best major league season with the Reds, posting a 2-5 record in 1962. His major league career record is 129-114. Purkey was 10-9 with the Cards in 1965 and had a 5.81 earned run average.

General Manager Joe L. Brown of Pittsburgh said reports on Purkey "are real good." "He is considered one of the toughest knuckle ball pitchers in the big leagues."

Purkey will be used as a starter or in relief, he said.

Lab Tests Fail To Produce Clue In Rape-Slaying

CINCINNATI (AP) — First FBI laboratory tests apparently failed to produce a clue which might lead to the slayer of Mrs. Lois Dant, 58.

Mrs. Dant was found beaten, raped and strangled in her apartment here Monday.

Detective John Huber took her torn clothing and what appeared to be hair, found matted in blood on her hand, to Washington for FBI experts to examine.

He said "hair" turned out to be nylon rug fibers. Other hair found beneath the woman's fingernails was "too minute to test," Huber said.

Results of tests on Mrs. Dant's clothing are not expected to be known for several days.

Meanwhile, a reward fund for information leading to the slayer has reached $725. The Kiwanis Club in the Price Hill area where Mrs. Dant lived started it with $250 and other contributions continued to come in.

Mrs. Dant's body was found by her husband, Frank, 66, when he returned home from church.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD DOAN
"The Brave Rifles"

"The Brave Rifles," a feature-length theatrical documentary on World War II's famous Battle of the Bulge, has been acquired by ABC for showing on its "Stage '66" series next season.

The 90-minute feature film, which has a footage shot by the German forces as well as the U.S. Signal Corps, currently is up for an Oscar award as the best feature documentary.

Richard Doan, author of "The Brave Rifles," is shown in a black and white photograph. He is a man with dark hair, wearing a suit and tie, looking directly at the camera.

IT IS THE FIRST program booked for the "Stage '66" series which is not designed primarily as an entertainment. The network has announced that the Wednesday night anthology will "run the gamut of the entertainment spectrum" from original dramas and musicals to "entertainment documentaries."

"Brave Rifles" obviously is not one of the latter. The battle film was assembled by an independent writer-producer, Larry Mascott, whose documentary credits go back to David Wolper's first production, "The Race for Space," which Mascott scripted.

Actor Arthur Kennedy narrates "The Brave Rifles." In black and white, it probably will be the only non-colored "ABC '66" show.

SOME OF THE OTHER "ABC '66" entries being pulled together by executive producer Hubbell Robinson:

"The World's Most Beautiful Women," described as an intimate look at five of them. Script by Leonard Spiegelglass, author of such Broadway offerings as "Majority of One" and "Dear Me, the Sky is Falling." Host narrator: Louis Jourdain.

"Let's Dance," a review of dance forms down through the ages, to be created by Arthur Laurents, who wrote "The Time of the Cuckoo," "Gypsy" and "Rodgers and Hart Today," with such stars as Tony Bennett, Count Basie and Nancy Wilson saluting the noted musical team.

MOVIES, which are reruns to begin with when they hit TV, are about to be subjected to that time-honored summer custom of repeat showings. Not that movies haven't been repeated on TV, but this time it's formal.

ABC announced it will institute prime-time features on Wednesdays at 9 p.m. on July 20.

The attractions, as ABC put it, will be "popular films which received their TV debuts this season on ABC's 'Sunday Night Movie.'"

"The Big Valley" and "Long Hot Summer" will be displaced, "Summer" going into network oblivion, "Valley" moving to Monday nights at 10, its new fall time slot.

"The Avengers" will be shifted from Mondays to Thursday nights, bumping another British entry, "The Baron."

The objective of all these shifts, according to program chief Len Goldberg: "To provide a wider range of viewing for our audiences."

NEW YORK'S TV critics may have turned ecstatic flipflops over Barbra Streisand's "Color Me Barbra" tour de force on CBS Wednesday night, but New York's non-critics evidently liked ABC's "Alice in Wonderland" cartoon special better.

Deplored by the reviewers as a desecration of the Lewis Carroll Classic, "Alice" pulled a New York Nielsen of 30 to Miss Streisand's 28.

Observers expected that the "Funny Girl" star probably would make her best showing in New York, her native habitat.

How the country at large rated "Barbra" compared with the "Alice" spoof was not immediately ascertainable, as a national Arbitron was reported only on the CBS show.

It got a 23.4, which was, remarkably, identical to the rating of Miss Streisand's first TV outing last April 24.

It was not as high as the ratings of such recent specials as Carol Channing's in February and Carol Burnett's last month.

DESI ARNAZ, back in the TV swim after a three-year absence, is hot after Cantinflas, the Mexican star, to headline a CBS entertainment special next season. Arnaz might make his return to the home screen, if briefly, as host of the proposed show.

"I DISCUSSED IT with Desi last night," CBS-TV program chief Mike Dann reported by telephone from Beverly Hills. "He hopes to line up a number of big Mexican stars, but arrangements are not yet completed."

Cantinflas, who starred in "Around the World in 80 Days," has been elusive to TV. NBC has chased him for several years to do a show, to no avail.

Bow To Keep Trying For 5% Spending Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, says he will keep offering amendments to all future appropriation bills for fiscal 1967, seeking to impose a 5 per cent cut in spending, like his proposals defeated Wednesday.

The House overwhelmingly passed and sent to the Senate bills calling for $7,210,177,135 for the Treasury Department and $1,169,723,500 for the Interior Department after rejecting Bow's 5 per cent cut amendments, 233-157 and 244-127 respectively.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Mother Takes Issue With Dr. Myers

Mrs. Mary Woodall, of Canada, wrote me the following: "Dear Dr. Myers: I read your article entitled 'Some Pitfalls Are Met In Adopting Children.' I would like to reply to it, sentence by sentence. 'As a rule couples who adopt a child do a very unselfish service.' A wish to be unselfish Dr. Garry Myers is not the reason for adopting a child. We did it because we wanted children. I will tell you right now, we have four adopted children because we wanted them and not because we were feeling unselfish.

"They hope he will appreciate their efforts and sacrifices for him." Wrong again. Neither my husband nor I expect our children to get on their knees as it were and say thank you every day of their lives. They have brought much more to us than we will ever be able to give back. Just to be able to look after them and bring them up to be good citizens is all we ask. It has never crossed our minds at any time that our children should be grateful for the fact that we have adopted them. It wasn't their decision to be adopted by us. It was ours.

"IN THE first place adoptive parents, aware of what other parents might think and say about them, tend to lean over backwards in providing the child the best opportunities for development they can provide. They are especially apt to give him too many material things and to make too many personal sacrifices." You are quite wrong when you say those things. I wish I had the words to tell you just how wrong you are. We are a family and we make our own decisions in the home. What other parents might do, or say, or think, does not influence what we do in the home.

"These parents may hesitate to discipline him adequately. They may fear they might be too strict with him. Perhaps they are inclined, as a rule, to more excessive permissiveness than they would be if he were their own natural child." Rubbish and nonsense. What is the matter with you? Have you ever spoken to parents of adopted children? If we acted as you say we might, we would have four spoiled children on our hands and that is certainly not true. You are welcome to visit us any time and see for yourself.

"Suppose they find this adopted child getting out of (hand) their control and developing ways of disobedience and undesirable behavior. They may get it into their heads that some bad traits in the child's real parents are coming out in him. This is more likely to happen, perhaps, since a large proportion of adopted children were born out of wedlock. What do you mean?"

"ARE THE children who are born out of wedlock something different? Do they come from another pattern. They are like any other child and it doesn't matter how they were born. We are responsible for any bad behavior in our children. It is our own fault the way our children turn out.

We should work toward giving them the good things to strive for and we cannot blame their natural parents for any lack of direction on our part. It is our fault and nobody else's if we fall down on the job. Environment has a lot to do with a child's attitudes in later life.

"I would like to say in conclusion that we parents both disagree with the whole article. We feel you are completely wrong in the way you treat adoption and adoptive parents."

"Yours sincerely, Mary Woodall (Mrs.)"

CONFUSING Legal Entanglements Ends

Cloud Of Death Clears As Man, 65, Leaves Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Doors of the Ohio Penitentiary open today for M. LeRoy Dunlap, freed at last of a death cloud that shadowed his masquerade existence for almost a half century.

The 65-year-old grandfather no longer had to fear that his life would end in the electric chair—a thought that has haunted him almost since boyhood.

Dunlap planned to head for St. Louis to live with a son he raised while Ohio authorities nearly forgot about an Akron murder case in which he was convicted 46 years ago.

He spent most of his life hiding under the name Harry Walker, and indicated he may go back to that name to try to forget his real identity. "I do not want to die as LeRoy Dunlap, murderer," he said.

With Dunlap's release, authorities who now can close the books on one of the most confusing legal entanglements in Ohio history.

He was committed to prison only a year ago, but his case began on a cold, bleak Jan. 13, 1920, when he and four companions decided to rob a restaurant in Akron.

Dunlap, then 19, carried a gun. It had a hair trigger, he recalled, and when a waiter named Steve Bosses resisted, Dunlap fired. The bullet struck Bosses in the heart.

All five were arrested but in May, 1920, Dunlap and two others sawed out of jail. One escapee was caught. The third was killed accidentally eight years later.

Dunlap stayed free. He first caught a train to Rochester, N. Y., then joined the army as Harry Walker.

In his absence, an Akron jury convicted Dunlap of first degree murder, without mercy. That means the electric chair in Ohio. But he was never sentenced because he was never caught.

Dunlap served five years in the Army, then went to St. Louis and got a job as a street car conductor. He married and became father of a son—still as Harry Walker.

Dunlap joined the Army Air Corps in 1942. He served until retirement in 1959.

Six years later, Dunlap was playing pinocle with fellow residents of a Washington, D. C. soldiers' home when he got the tap on the shoulder he "always knew was coming."

Dunlap was returned to Akron. A judge ordered a new trial. But records had been thrown away, witnesses had died, there was no substantial record of the holdup victim's death, no one knew where he was buried, and there had been a possibly applicable U.S. Supreme Court decision on pre-trial explanation of a prisoner's constitutional rights.

Dunlap agreed to plead guilty to first degree manslaughter and the prosecution accepted. He was sentenced to 1-20 years. Dunlap served most of the minimum sentence at a prison honor camp. He was brought here just a few days ago for release procedures.

"I have dreamed more than once of the electric chair," Dunlap remarked, adding that after 34 years of hiding, "I'm happy."

Elderly Couple Killed In Car-Truck Crash

Police said Mrs. Sutter drove onto Route 8 from a side road, colliding with a panel truck driven by John Gidea, 50, of Butler R.D. 6. Gidea was hospitalized in serious condition.

Junior Editors Quiz on
MIRRORS

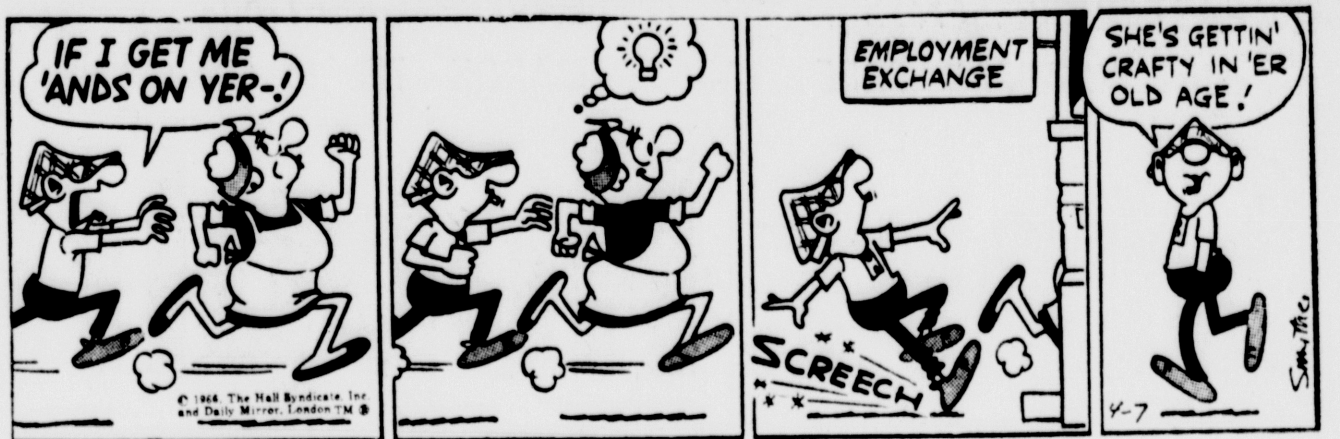

QUESTION: Why are things reflected in mirrors?

ANSWER: Everything we look at, except for perfectly black areas, reflects back some of the light which falls on it. It is these reflections which, focused sharply on the retinas inside our eyes, give up pictures of the world outside. Objects which have a soft, porous surface like cloth absorb much of the light. Hard-surfaced shiny objects reflect a lot of the light to our eyes. If such objects are shiny enough they will reflect a full picture of the scene whose light falls on them, and if we are looking directly into them, this picture will include our own faces. In (1) Janes looks into a smooth white kitchen plate. The light from the window falls on her face and she can see a dim image of herself in the plate. Ancient peoples early discovered the fun of looking at themselves in shiny surfaces. In (2) an Egyptian princess uses a polished bronze hand mirror. But the mirrors our millions of modern princesses use are much better (3). Back of the glass, which acts as a protective layer, is a brilliant coating called silvering, often made of tin and mercury. This gives a surface so highly reflective that we can see almost perfect images of ourselves.

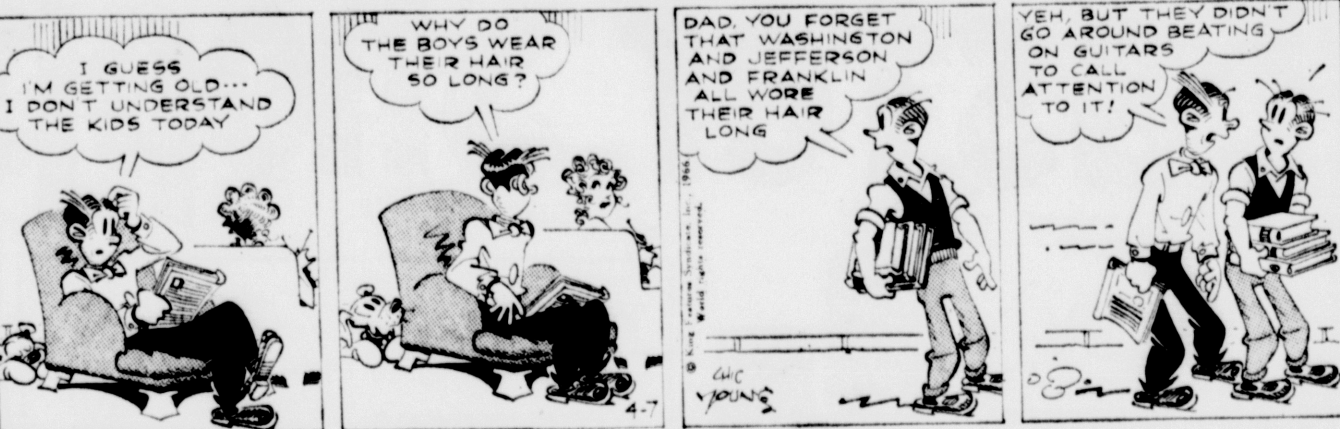

FOR YOU TO DO: Does a mirror reflect you exactly? Raise your right hand before a mirror; your image raises a hand, too. But is this what seems to be the image's right hand. If you answered yes to the first question, you will have to change it to no, for a mirror shows things reversed. Check Janet brushing her hair.

James Henry Armstrong of Wichita Falls, Tex., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.
